HOSTAGES — Mrs. Dolores Cranford hangs onto her infant son, Steve, and thinks about the gunman who held them captive in their home while another gunman forced her husband, Clarence, an assistant cashier, to open the Silver Hill, Md., bank. The bank bandit took some $15,000, called his partner at the Cranford home and drove off in their car.

A-Info Swap Claimed Needed

Congressman Says U.S., Allies Must Share

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Durham (D-NC) of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee said today Congress must approve the sharing of U. S. nuclear secrets with allies "if we expect NATO to stay together."

He promised speedy handling for President Eisenhower's proposals for sharing atomic data with friendly nations, and predicted congressional passage of the plan, but not without a fight. "There is not much else we can do now," Durham said. "We have got to go along if we expect NATO to work with us."

The joint committee received Atomic Energy Commission recommendations for amending the Atomic Energy Act in line with Eisenhower's plans for making available to allies nuclear information, raw materials and weapons components, but not complete weapons.

Durham said he was impressed during a trip to Europe last summer by the extent to which neutralist sentiment had spread even in the NATO countries, and by the need for vigorous action to renew enthusiasm for the Atlantic Alliance.

"IT OUGHT to be made clear that this is not a proposal to give things away," Durham said. "It is a question whether we will cooperate with our own allies and make considerable savings by doing it."

The proposed amendments would give the President discretion to turn over weapons data to allies whenever he determined "that the proposed cooperation and the communication of the proposed restricted data will promote and will not constitute an unreasonable risk to the common defense and security."

4 Workmen Rescued From Dirt Caves

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A dirt bank softened by rain and snow collapsed on the Madison Avenue Expressway project Monday, burying two workmen.

A second cave in minutes later trapped two other men who were clawing at the pile.

All four were rescued alive. Robert Bowler, 38, Roachdale, was reported in critical condition. He was buried deepest.

U. S.-Soviet Exchange Pact Hailed by Both Countries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anywhere from 500 to 2,000 Soviet tourists, scientists, wrestler and what-have-you will be visiting the United States during the next two years under a monumental U. S.-Soviet exchanges agreement.

The accord, signed Monday at the State Department by Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin and U. S. negotiator William S.B. Lacy was hailed as a possible thawing trend in the cold war.

President Eisenhower welcomed it and expressed hope that its carrying-out might "contribute substantially to the betterment of relations between the two countries, thereby also contributing to a lessening of international tensions."

Zarubin called it the most important achievement of his five years here as Soviet ambassador. He sails Wednesday for Moscow, reportedly to become a deputy foreign minister.

Capitol Hill was full of praise. Chairman Green (D-RI) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said it might prove the alternative to "development of the instruments of war." Senators Mansfield (D-Mont) and Humphrey (D-Minn) similarly applauded. Neither the United States nor the Soviet Union got everything it wanted.

The United States had to settle for a half-measure on exchanging radio-television broadcasts. But officials said they were content with that because it showed the Soviets are willing to move, however cautiously, toward easing the Iron Curtain.

Agreement was reached to have sporadic censored radio-TV broadcasts on current events, with each side holding a veto over what could not be used.

Another U. S. disappointment was Soviet refusal to agree to quit jamming Voice of America broadcasts to the Soviet Union in the Russian language.

On the other hand, the Russians wanted a direct New York-Moscow air service so they could show off their sleek new TU104 jetliner. The United States demurred, pending, officials confided, the time when the United States also will have sleek new jetliners in service on commercial airlines.

The agreement was good news to many lovers of ballet, music, athletics and improvement of American industry, medicine and education. All told, 35 or more delegations in these and other fields will bring some 500 Soviet specialists to the United States during 1958-59. A like number of similar experts will go from the United States to Russia during the two-year period.

Tourist travel was hard to figure. But officials estimated some 1,500 Soviet tourists and possibly 3,000 American tourists will visit the respective foreign lands during 1958-59 as a result of the accord. Between 2,000 to 3,000 American tourists went to the U.S.S.R. last year. Soviet tourist travel here was nil.

Khrush Urging 'Small Issues' Be Talked, Then Bigger Ones

MOSCOW (AP) — Still plugging for a summit conference, Nikita Khrushchev proposed Monday night that government heads start with issues "we can agree on before tackling the tougher and more basic problems."

The Communist party boss was talking with Western ambassadors at an Indian National Day reception. He spoke with the good humor he usually displays on the Soviet capital's cocktail circuit, in considerable contrast to his usual blasts at the United States.

He did not say just how the Soviets and the Western Allies could agree on which smaller issues they are likely to agree on. The West has proposed that talks by ambassadors and foreign ministers work this out prior to any summit meeting.

Summit talks, Khrushchev said, "should be like a Russian meal. Let's start with zakuska (hors d'oeuvres), proceed with soup and fish and end up with the main course."

The Soviet Union will not return to the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee talks, Khrushchev reiterated, adding that "deliberations of the subcommittee were hypocritical."

KHRUSHCHEV also repeated the usual proposals for immediate halt of nuclear weapon tests, a reduction of armed forces on both sides of the Iron Curtain and a nonaggression pact with the West.

'Conservative' Designer Also Features Sack

PARIS (AP) — When conservative Pierre Balmain goes in for loose waists and short skirts, the sack line has really arrived.

It happened today when Balmain unveiled his spring collection of tube dresses and cylinder skirts. Balmain's sack is far from a bag; it fits everywhere except in the middle. His top-of-the-calf skirts were radically shorter for him, but other designers are flirting with the kneecap.

It was altogether the newest-looking Balmain collection in years, but there were still vintage touches. These included sunray pleated backs, sometimes with the slack pulled up and draped over one arm like a Grecian toga; long femme fatale sheaths with feathered or frilled trains, and pannier or basket-skirted formal with fullness at the side.

Balmain suits have short, blouse-backed jackets, loosely tied in front, and he makes many long-waisted, semifitted shortwaist dresses with gathered-on skirts.

Show-stopper was an endless feather boa, flourished by new Irish mannequin Moira Boyanan. One fascinated American fashion writer grabbed it and measured it with four generous arm spans while the towering auburn-haired model from Dublin waited, smiling good-naturedly. The unbelieving comment "Four yards long!" went round the salon.

Car Price Hike Hearing Urged

UAW Asking Congress For New Procedure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reuther urged today that Congress require large corporations to justify their price increases in advance before a special government agency. An independent consumers counsel would represent the public.

The United Automobile Workers president said that such an agency should not have powers to block the price boosts but should be able to lay all the facts before the public in advance of the effective date for the increases.

Reuther made the proposal at the opening session of a hearing on auto prices before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Auto company presidents are to appear later.

The series of hearings is a part of a broad study of administered prices in major industries which the subcommittee began last year. Administered prices are those set by a company, rather than fluctuating on the basis of supply and demand.

KEFAUVER said that the subcommittee is disturbed by a "decline in automobile production and employment accompanied by an increase in automobile prices."

Reuther's statement repeated the UAW's frequently stated views that increased labor costs have not been responsible for increased car prices since the end of World War II and that the profits of the automobile corporations have been exorbitant.

One effect of the public review would be to determine impartially what effect union wage demands may have in forcing price increases, Reuther indicated.

Moving into Suburbia May Backfire, Warning

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Chicago sociologist says he thinks the steady movement of American families to city suburbs may backfire.

Dr. Philip Hauser, chairman of the Sociology Department at the University of Chicago, said Monday American cities of the future may be a patchwork of good and bad neighborhoods.

Dr. Hauser, here to address a civic group, said that "Some of what is going up in the suburbs is slum even before the concrete is dry."

President To Attend Funeral for Brother

KANSAS CITY (AP) — President Eisenhower will fly to Kansas City Wednesday for funeral services for his eldest brother Arthur.

The funeral was set for 1 p. m. There will be services later in New York and the body will be entombed there.

Arthur Eisenhower, a banker in Kansas City for 50 years before his retirement in 1956, died at his home of a heart attack Sunday night. He was 71.

Virginia Plans Honor For Ulysses S. Grant

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — More than a century ago Ulysses S. Grant had to fight his way into Richmond. But the Civil War general's grandson, Ulysses S. Grant III, will have an easier time getting in next month—he will receive a key to the city.

City Council decided to honor Grant when he speaks at the Virginia Heritage Dinner.

Campanella Seriously Hurt In Car Crash

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP) — Veteran Roy Campanella, a mainstay of the Los Angeles Dodgers, suffered a fractured neck early today when his car skidded, overturned and crashed into a pole.

He was pinned in the wreckage for half an hour after the accident at 3:30 a. m. and was pronounced in critical condition following his removal to Glen Cove Community Hospital.

At 7:30 a. m. he was taken to the operating room.

The operation was described as a laminectomy, a procedure to relieve pressure from the fracture on the spinal cord. A spokesman at the hospital said this was necessary before it could be determined whether any permanent injury had been sustained. No other injury was immediately apparent.

The 36-year-old Campanella, who has been beset by injuries of one kind or another during his long baseball career, was returning alone to his home in this Long Island community after a New York television appearance when the mishap occurred.

A physician living near the accident scene, Dr. W. S. Gurnee, gave Campanella an injection but said later the baseball player felt no sensation from the needle and that "it doesn't look good for his baseball career."

Police informed Campanella's wife at home. The couple has six children, 4 to 18.

The 215-pound Campanella signed his 1958 contract with the Dodgers for $36,000, a salary cut after a poor season in 1957.

President Eisenhower will fly to Kansas City Wednesday for funeral services for his eldest brother Arthur.

Civil Service Exams Set For Police, Fire Vacancies

The Circleville Civil Service Commission will hold an examination February 17 for the purpose of filling an eligible list in the local Police and Fire Departments.

In addition to filling the eligible list the examination will provide for two lieutenants in the Fire Department. The promotions will be within the department.

Both the Police and Fire Departments need one man to bring the forces up to authorized strength. The examination will be held in City Council chambers at 7 p. m.

Blank applications may be obtained at the commission office in the City Building. They must be returned no later than 4 p. m. February 13.

APPLICANTS for policemen must be resident voters of Pickaway County and between the ages of 21-31. The job calls for a starting salary of $275 per month, two weeks vacation, two weeks sick leave with pay and retirement benefits.

Applicants for the Fire Department must be resident voters of Circleville and between the ages of 21-31. Starting salary and benefits are the same as those of the Police Department.

Further information may be obtained from commission members Tom A. Renick, chairman; Luther Bower, vice chairman and V. L. Hawkes, secretary.

Army Jupiter-C Missile All Poised for Blastoff

U.S. Military Status 'Sound'

Defense Chief Gives Views to Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy told senators today that "on the whole our military position is sound." He also urged speedy appropriation of more than $1 billion to step up programs for ballistic missiles and related defenses.

McElroy was leadoff witness in a closed-door session of the Senate Appropriations Committee on an emergency money bill containing $1 billion of new funds plus transfer authority on $150 million of old funds.

The measure won unanimous passage in the House last Thursday and is expected to get similar Senate treatment, possibly with some additions.

McElroy said the emergency fund measure is in effect, an advance action of the 1959 program already under consideration by the House.

That was a reference to the defense money bill for the fiscal year that begins next July 1.

McElroy's prepared testimony was made available outside the closed-door session.

IN ADVANCE of the committee meeting Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said he is afraid President Eisenhower's defense budget does not provide enough military "strength in being." He predicted Congress will put up more money for the Strategic Air Command.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he will support a move to provide funds for purchase of additional long-range bombers while missiles are being perfected.

"We have got to step up our Strategic Air Command to increase our strength in being," he said. "Despite the development of missiles, the manned bomber is not obsolete. It is going to be with us a long, long time."

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee had heard testimony that SAC remains the backbone of U. S. power to strike back. One of the subcommittee's 17 recommendations was to "modernize and strengthen the strategic air force."

Fancy Bumping Into You Here!

DETROIT (AP) — There was a loud crash as the two cars came together. The drivers bolted out of their vehicles, looked at each other and cut short what might have been twin torrents of harsh words.

"Mike!" exclaimed Mrs. Helen Omell.

"Helen!" shouted her husband Michael.

The Omells were on their way to jobs in different parts of the city.

O'Neill Condition Labeled as 'Good'

COLUMBUS (AP) — A physician attending Gov. C. William O'Neill, who suffered a heart attack six days ago, checked the governor's condition today and came up with an enthusiastic report on O'Neill's recovery rate.

After the morning checkup, Dr. Robert C. Kirk said: "Everything is as good as it was Monday." He said the governor's blood pressure, temperature and pulse are normal.

"Summing up," he said, "everything remains in status quo—and a very good quo it is."

O'Neill's press secretary, Hal W. Conery, said there was no noon check on O'Neill's condition because Dr. Kirk felt it was not necessary. He said the other attending physician, Dr. George I. Nelson, will make a check about 5 p. m. Conery added that both physicians are very well satisfied with the governor's recovery.

They said the quantity of food allowed the governor has been limited, but not the kind.

CONERY SAID Mrs. O'Neill reported the governor had a quiet, restful night without benefit of sedatives. She also reported the governor is eating well. Conery added:

"The governor is coming along excellently and he might even be able to be out of the mansion in less time than was forecast originally, but I wouldn't want to predict anything."

Dr. Nelson reported last evening that there was no sign of any paralysis, and said he detected no sign of any previously undiagnosed heart attack.

Dr. Nelson pointed out that a coronary artery is involved in the illness, which is termed a coronary occlusion, but said no arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) is evident.

The heart attack, which was reported to have occurred last Wednesday, brought political comments from both sides of the fence.

George H. Bender, interior department official and former U. S. Senator from Ohio, said in Anchorage, Alaska, that he still does not intend to run for governor.

Bender, in Alaska on a 12-day tour investigating the aspects of trade and tourists for the Department of the Interior, had been indicated earlier as a possible opponent for O'Neill in the May primary. He publicly announced two weeks ago that he is going to remain at his present post.

Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, titular head of Ohio Democrats and one of nine seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said he would withhold campaign statements until the governor improves.

"I CERTAINLY am not going to participate in any attack on him while he is down," DiSalle reported.

Although aides have reported that O'Neill will file for reelection as planned before the Feb. 5 primary, DiSalle said he would not intend to run for governor.

Going Steady Under 20 Said To Be Hazard

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Going steady at too early an age can hurt a girl's chances of getting married, warns an expert on the subject of the unwed woman.

"It stunts her intellectual and social growth," says Dr. Richard H. Klemer, 39, associate general director of the American Institute of Family Relations.

"Suppose she doesn't marry this boy she's been going with since grammar school. She is then far less intellectually and socially equipped for marriage than girls who have been dating lots of boys."

"And women shouldn't be angry or upset about other girl friends' sweethearts or husbands who may have had. They're the ones who polished that diamond in the rough the woman now loves."

Dr. Klemer added that after a girl passes her early 20s, going steady is desirable if she wants to get married.

"After that age, if she is still flitting from one casual acquaintance to another, it could indicate she is unable to develop the deep emotional relationship needed for marriage."

Dr. Klemer is married and the father of a 17-month-old daughter. His conclusions are based on a wartime career as a sergeant who recruited WACS, a three-year study of marriageable women for his doctor of philosophy degree, and a four-year stint as a teacher at a girls' college where he studied as he taught.

ANTI-A-BOMB — Wartime Navy commander Albert Bigelow is trying to stall U.S. A-bomb tests by sailing a 30-foot ketch into the Eniwetok testing area. He will lead a crew of four other pacifists into the danger area of the atomic testing area.

deadline, election officials began checking the statutes dealing with the governor's office.

Attorneys cited these possibilities:

Statute provides that the name of a candidate who files for state or district office cannot appear on ballots if he should die before April 26.

If he dies between that date and the primary election, his name remains on the ballot but votes for him cannot be counted. The nomination would then go to the candidate with the next highest number of votes. If only the governor filed, his death would leave his replacement in the hands of the Republican State Committee.

The state committee also would fill a vacancy created if the governor should withdraw after nomination before Aug. 16 or die before Oct. 25. If death came after Oct. 25, his name would remain on the ballot and votes for him would be counted to determine the winner of the general election.

If the deceased candidate got the most votes, attorneys said, the state constitution is not specific whether the then lieutenant governor or the newly elected lieutenant governor would succeed him.

To date, only one other Republican has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination, Alvin L. Spriggs of Mount Gilead.

Following that attempt, the Vanguard was dismantled and there seemed no chance that it could be put back together and readied for shooting for several days. That cleared the way for the flight of the Jupiter-C.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, told a Senate committee after Sputnik I was launched that the Army could have done the same thing in 1955, if the Navy hadn't been given exclusive operating rights in the satellite field.

The Jupiter-C satellite will weigh 29.7 pounds, nine times more than the little aluminum sphere the Vanguard would have carried.

2 Indiana Men Linked To Holdups

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Two Indiana men accused of robbing a Danville food chain store and kidnapping hostages Jan. 18 face additional robbery charges.

Warrants charging Walter E. Gump, 36, and John R. Diefenbaugh, 47, both of Muncie, Ind., with the armed robbery of an A&P store in Piqua, Ohio, Dec. 17 have arrived at Danville Police Headquarters. Robbers got $550 in the Ohio holdup.

Police chief Robert Christy of Danville said police at Troy, Ohio, had written him that the manager of a supermarket there had identified photographs of the two as the holdup men who took some $800 from his store Jan. 14.

Hearing Hinted In FCC Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators may give a public airing next week to allegations that members of the Federal Communications Commission accepted favors from industry.

That appeared likely today as the House subcommittee on legislative oversight summoned two other federal agency chairmen for questioning — Howard G. Freas of the Interstate Commerce Commission and John W. Geyne of the Federal Trade Commission.

The subcommittee is checking to determine whether agencies are following the intent of Congress in creating them.

Izvestia did not specifically rule out the Western call for lower-level talks first but said the West's replies "contain no convincing explanation why serious talks between the heads of various states cannot comment in the next few months."

Fancy Bumping Into You Here!

DETROIT (AP) — There was a loud crash as the two cars came together. The drivers bolted out of their vehicles, looked at each other and cut short what might have been twin torrents of harsh words.

"Mike!" exclaimed Mrs. Helen Omell.

"Helen!" shouted her husband Michael.

The Omells were on their way to jobs in different parts of the city.

Honor Student Suicides

McCONNELSVILLE (AP) — Robert Schofield, 19-year-old honor student at Marietta College, committed suicide, Morgan County Coroner Dr. A. A. Coulson said, by hanging himself in the basement of his Chesterhill home.

O'Neill Condition Labeled as 'Good'

COLUMBUS (AP) — A physician attending Gov. C. William O'Neill, who suffered a heart attack six days ago, checked the governor's condition today and came up with an enthusiastic report on O'Neill's recovery rate.

After the morning checkup, Dr. Robert C. Kirk said: "Everything is as good as it was Monday." He said the governor's blood pressure, temperature and pulse are normal.

"Summing up," he said, "everything remains in status quo—and a very good quo it is."

O'Neill's press secretary, Hal W. Conefry, said there was no noon check on O'Neill's condition because Dr. Kirk felt it was not necessary. He said the other attending physician, Dr. George I. Nelson, will make a check about 5 p. m.

Conefry added that both physicians are very well satisfied with the governor's recovery.

They said the quantity of food allowed the governor has been limited, but not the kind.

CONEFRY SAID Mrs. O'Neill reported the governor had a quiet, restful night without benefit of sedatives. She also reported the governor is eating well. Conefry added:

"The governor is coming along excellently and he might even be able to be out of the mansion in less time than was forecast originally, but I wouldn't want to predict anything."

Dr. Nelson reported last evening that there was no sign of any paralysis, and said he detected no sign of any previously undiagnosed heart attack.

Dr. Nelson pointed out that a coronary artery is involved in the illness, which is termed a coronary occlusion, but said no arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) is evident.

The heart attack, which was reported to have occurred last Wednesday, brought political comments from both sides of the fence.

George H. Bender, interior department official and former U. S. Senator from Ohio, said in Anchorage, Alaska, that he still does not intend to run for governor.

Bender, in Alaska on a 12-day tour investigating the aspects of trade and tourists for the Department of the Interior, had been indicated earlier as a possible opponent for O'Neill in the May primary. He publicly announced two weeks ago that he is going to remain at his present post.

Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, titular head of Ohio Democrats and one of nine seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said he would withhold campaign statements until the governor improves.

"I CERTAINLY am not going to participate in any attack on him while he is down," DiSalle reported.

Although aides have reported that O'Neill will file for reelection as planned before the Feb. 5

Launching Near For U.S. 'Moon'

Test Firing Hinted Wednesday, Thursday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A mighty Jupiter-C missile stood poised on its launching pad here today, ready for its effort to propel an American earth satellite into space. The blastoff is expected Wednesday or Thursday.

This is a chance the Army has long awaited. It claims it could have fired a satellite into orbit as far back as 1955, long before the Soviet sputniks, if it had not been ordered to stand aside and let the Navy do the job with its Vanguard rocket.

Now, in the wake of the Navy's second failure to get the temperamental Vanguard off the ground, there is furious activity around the Jupiter-C firing platform. The Army has its go-ahead and is close to zero hour.

The weather is perfect. The tall Jupiter tower stands in bright sunshine and workmen swarming over it can be seen clearly from the beaches outside the top-secret firing range.

Nobody talks officially but optimism is high.

Many experts have expressed the opinion that the Jupiter-C, a creation of the German scientist Werner von Braun, has a better chance than the Vanguard to put the first American "moon" into orbit around the earth.

The first Vanguard blew up on its firing pad here Dec. 6 after an immense publicity buildup. Last week, a four-day effort to shoot a second Vanguard ended in failure. Bad weather and mechanical difficulties were blamed.

FOLLOWING that attempt, the Vanguard was dismantled and there seemed no chance that it could be put back together and readied for shooting for several days. That cleared the way for the flight of the Jupiter-C.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, told a Senate committee after Sputnik I was launched that the Army could have done the same thing in 1955, if the Navy hadn't been given exclusive operating rights in the satellite field.

The Jupiter-C satellite will weigh 29.7 pounds, nine times more than the little aluminum sphere the Vanguard would have carried.

2 Indiana Men Linked To Holdups

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Two Indiana men accused of robbing a Danville food chain store and kidnapping hostages Jan. 18 face additional robbery charges.

Warrants charging Walter E. Gump, 38, and John R. Diefenbaugh, 47, both of Muncie, Ind., with the armed robbery of an A&P store in Piqua, Ohio, Dec. 17 have arrived at Danville Police Headquarters. Robbers got $550 in the Ohio holdup.

Police chief Robert Christy of Danville said police at Troy, Ohio, had written him that the manager of a supermarket there had identified photographs of the two as the holdup men who took some $800 from his store Jan. 14.

Dr. Klemmer is married and the father of a 17-month-old daughter.

His conclusions are based on a wartime career as a sergeant who recruited WACs, a three-year study of marriageable women for his doctor of philosophy degree, and a four-year stint as a teacher at a girls' college where he studied as he taught.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Robert Myers and Carl Wilson, both 12, told police they gave up $5.60 to two older boys after the bandits ambushed them with a loaded sling shot outside a candy shop.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators may give a public airing next week to allegations that members of the Federal Communications Commission accepted favors from industry.

That appeared likely today as the House subcommittee on legislative oversight summoned two other federal agency chairmen for questioning — Howard G. Fries of the Interstate Commerce Commission and John W. Geyne of the Federal Trade Commission.

The subcommittee is checking to determine whether agencies are following the intent of Congress in creating them.

HOSTAGES — Mrs. Dolores Cranford hangs onto her infant son, Steve, and thinks about the gunman who held them captive in their home while another gunman forced her husband, Clarence, an assistant cashier, to open the Silver Hill, Md., bank. The bank bandit took some $15,000, called his partner at the Cranford home and drove off in their car.

A-Info Swap Claimed Needed

Congressman Says U.S., Allies Must Share

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Durham (D-NC) of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee said today Congress must approve the sharing of U. S. nuclear secrets with allies "if we expect NATO to stay together."

He promised speedy handling for President Eisenhower's proposals for sharing atomic data with friendly nations, and predicted congressional passage of the plan, but not without a fight.

"There is not much else we can do now," Durham said. "We have got to go along if we expect NATO to work with us."

The joint committee received Atomic Energy Commission recommendations for amending the Atomic Energy Act in line with Eisenhower's plans for making available to allies nuclear information, raw materials and weapons components, but not complete weapons.

Durham said he was impressed during a trip to Europe last summer by the extent to which neutralist sentiment had spread even in the NATO countries, and by the need for vigorous action to renew enthusiasm for the Atlantic Alliance.

"IT OUGHT to be made clear that this is not a proposal to give things away," Durham said. "It is a question whether we will cooperate with our own allies and make considerable savings by doing it."

The proposed amendments would give the President discretion to turn over weapons data to allies whenever he determined "that the proposed cooperation and the communication of the proposed restricted data will promote and will not constitute an unreasonable risk to the common defense and security."

The amendments also would provide for transfer of atomic materials to allies without the present restriction that such materials may not be used for weapons manufacture.

4 Workmen Rescued From Dirt Caves

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A dirt bank softened by rain and snow collapsed on the Madison Avenue Expressway project Monday, burying two workmen.

A second cave-in minutes later trapped two other men who were clamping at the pile.

All four were rescued alive. Robert Bowler, 18, Roachdale, was reported in critical condition. He was buried deepest.

Single SS Checks Due

Combined Payment Can Save Million

Some elderly couples will receive notice this month that their social security benefits will be combined into a single check, beginning January, Elmer H. Biedenholz, district manager of the Chillicothe Social Security office announced today.

Other couples who are receiving separate social security benefit checks as husband and wife will be notified in subsequent months, Biedenholz said, at least two months before they will be paid their first combined check.

This new payment procedure is expected to save the government about $1 million a year. Payment of only one check, representing the combined monthly benefit amounts of a retired worker and his wife, was started on a trial basis in September 1956, but was limited mainly to families in which the wife became entitled to benefits in September 1956 or later.

In its 10 months of operation, the new payment method has proved successful and productive of substantial savings, Biedenholz reported. The plan will be extended, beginning this month to elderly couples who were on the social security rolls before September 1956.

No combination of social security benefits payable to a husband and wife will be made where they are not living together or where all or part of the wife's benefit is based upon her own record of work under social security. Any person who has a special need for a separate check may, when he gets his notice, arrange with his social security office for his payments to continue by separate check.

With more than 10 million men, women and children receiving monthly social security benefits, and with the number increasing each month, the total cost of issuing checks has become a major concern of the Social Security Administration and of the Treasury Department. It costs more than 5 cents to prepare and mail each check, including postage, check stock, envelopes, manpower, and other supplies and equipment.

Stock Mart Prices Show Slight Dip

NEW YORK — Aircrafts and tobaccos dipped as the stock market declined lightly in sluggish trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks were off fractions to a point or more. There were some gainers.

Martin Co. took a loss of more than two points following the Navy's latest failure to get the Vanguard missile off the ground.

Meanwhile, Chrysler was ahead more than a point as the firm's Jupiter-C missile stood poised for an effort to propel an American satellite into space.

The market was mixed in early trading but assumed a lower tone toward mid-session.

Lorillard lost well over a point. Losses of about a point were taken by American Tobacco and Philip Morris.

Republic Steel, which reported lower earnings, was another one-point lower. U. S. Steel was about unchanged in the afternoon.

United Aircraft and General Dynamics dropped major fractions. Rails were generally lower. New York Central was down fractionally as was Allegheny common.

Trading fell off in these stocks which were actively dealt Monday following the suicide of Robert R. Young, board chairman of both companies. Allegheny prior preferred showed little change.

U. S. government bonds were steady.

News in Brief

Baghdad Pact Nations OK New Strategy

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Baghdad Pact Council of Ministers today approved long-term plans for a strategic system of roads, ports, airfields and radio communications. If carried out, the project will cost billions.

The five-nation conference, with Secretary of State Dulles sitting as an American observer, OK'd the plan in approving the report of the pact's military committee.

Informed sources said the group was moving toward turning the military planning group into a full-blown unified command.

The secret parts of the military committee's report were believed to have recommended:

1. That any major assault from the north must be met as far as possible in the craggy mountain passes between Russia and Turkey, Iraq and Iran.

2. National forces of the regional Moslem members, who also include Pakistan, must be developed and modernized although not necessarily with nuclear weapons.

3. The United States and Britain, the other two participating nations, will speed supply of conventional arms which may become surplus to needs of their own forces — including warships, fighter planes, radar warning equipment and anti-aircraft missiles.

ROME — Roberto Rossellini has asked a Rome court to annul his marriage to Ingrid Bergman. The actress is not contesting the Italian film director's suit.

Rossellini claimed Miss Bergman was "still technically married" to Dr. Peter Lindstrom when she married the Italian film director by proxy in Mexico May 24, 1950. Fraudulent marriage is a legal ground for annulment in Italy, where divorce is not legal.

Miss Bergman received a Mexican divorce from Dr. Lindstrom Feb. 9, 1950, the week after the birth of her first child by Rossellini.

The couple was legally separated here Nov. 7.

KOBE, Japan (AP) — Japanese divers today found the sunken hull of the ferryboat Nankai Maru in 120 feet of water in the Inland Sea. Six bodies believed to be from among the missing 170 passengers and crewmen were drifting in the area.

The ferryboat was lost in storms Sunday and Monday.

Coast guard officials believed the 2-year-old radar-equipped ship suddenly capsized or broke in the mountainous waves.

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's powerful Academy of Sciences opened a drive today to recruit members for its new branch in Siberia. Ike-Backing Editor Predicts Dems To Sweep '58 Election

AKRON (AP) — John Knight, head of the Akron Beacon Journal and other newspapers and a supporter of President Eisenhower in the 1956 election, predicts the Democrats will sweep congressional elections this year.

In a speech at the 50th anniversary banquet of the Akron Chamber of Commerce Monday night, Knight also told an audience of 800 that Secretary of State Dulles should resign.

Knight said Dulles has become a liability to world peace and the administration's foreign policy has become "barren and sterile." He described Dulles as too inflexible. He said a successor should be someone liked and respected by our allies and possessed of some degree of flexibility.

Although not recommending anyone specifically, the publisher mentioned the names of John Cabot Lodge, United Nations ambassador, and Thomas E. Dewey, former New York governor and twice unsuccessful GOP candidate for president.

Knight said the "sad plight" of the Republican Party is due to the "undeniable fact of the president's slipping leadership."

On the Democratic side, Knight said Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts "apparently is leading in the race." He said he believed Lyndon Johnson of Texas, senate majority leader, is the ablest man but doubted Johnson could win the nomination because he was from Texas. Knight also mentioned Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and said he was "strategically well placed" to get the nomination.

Community Mission Program Expanding; Financing Needed

Since the dedication of the Circleville Community Mission, June 2, 1957, more than 500 articles of clothing have been distributed by those in charge. All items distributed have been provided by church groups and friends of the mission work.

At present, the greatest need is clothing for children. Those interested in giving clothing may contact the Circleville Bible College, Phone 778.

Each Sunday religious services are held in the mission and there has been a steady increase in attendance. The services are conducted by students of the Circleville Bible College, Mr. and Mrs. David Cyrus, both students of the college, have been especially active in this work.

Sunday evening, Dec. 22, nearly 70 people attended the Christmas program which was presented by the children of the mission. The children sang, recited and gave a tableau of the Nativity scene.

Recently, a "Mother's Circle" was formed and regular meetings are held at 2 p. m. each Wednesday. The activities of the mothers are directed by the Bible College.

THE REV. GLENN JOHNSON, president of the Bible College and also a member of the Circleville Community Mission Board of Trustees, is directly responsible for all the services of the Mission. The remaining members of the Trust Board are other local ministers and laymen.

Removable partitions to separate the various classes are being installed in the basement of the mission. The people of the mission area are financing this part of the project.

Although the Circleville Community Mission is nearly free of debt, there is still an urgent need to purchase more suitable pews for the building. The people of the area contribute enough for the janitor work and supplies, such as Sunday School literature, but church groups and other friends have been responsible for the purchase of fuel and payment of utilities.

Financial aid for the mission should be given through the Board of Trustees Treasurer, Montford Kirkwood, 110 Collins Court, Phone 499-Y.

Combined Payment Can Save Million

Some elderly couples will receive notice this month that their social security benefits will be combined into a single check, beginning January, Elmer H. Biedenholz, district manager of the Chillicothe Social Security office announced today.

Other couples who are receiving separate social security benefits as husband and wife will be notified in subsequent months, Biedenholz said, at least two months before they will be paid their first combined check.

This new payment procedure is expected to save the government about $1 million a year. Payment of only one check, representing the combined monthly benefit amounts of a retired worker and his wife, was started on a trial basis in September 1956, but was limited mainly to families in which the wife became entitled to benefits in September 1956 or later.

In its 10 months of operation, the new payment method has proved successful and productive of substantial savings, Biedenholz reported. The plan will be extended, beginning this month to elderly couples who were on the social security rolls before September 1956.

No combination of social security benefits payable to a husband and wife will be made where they are not living together or where all or part of the wife's benefit is based upon her own record of work under social security. Any person who has a special need for a separate check may, when he gets his notice, arrange with his social security office for his payments to continue by separate check.

With more than 10 million men, women and children receiving monthly social security benefits, and with the number increasing each month, the total cost of issuing checks has become a major concern of the Social Security Administration and of the Treasury Department. It costs more than 5 cents to prepare and mail each check, including postage, check stock, envelopes, manpower, and other supplies and equipment.

Stock Mart Prices Show Slight Dip

Key stocks were off fractions to a point or more. There were some gains.

The market was mixed in early trading but assumed a lower tone toward mid-session.

Lorillard lost well over a point. Losses of about a point were taken by American Tobacco and Philip Morris.

Republic Steel, which reported lower earnings, was another one-point loser. U. S. Steel was about unchanged in the afternoon.

United Aircraft and General Dynamics dropped major fractions. Rails were generally lower. New York Central was down fractionally as was Allegheny common.

Trading fell off in these stocks which were actively dealt Monday following the suicide of Robert R. Young, board chairman of both companies. Allegheny prior preferred showed little change.

OSU Scholarships Due for Freshmen

COLUMBUS — Some $350,000 in student scholarships will be awarded at Ohio State University for the 1958-59 academic year, Rodney J. Harrison, director of the University Scholarships Office, announced today.

He said also that the application deadline for these awards has been advanced to March 15 — a month sooner than in previous years — to permit earlier action on the applications by the University Scholarship Committee.

The scholarship grants vary in amount and are provided from a variety of sources, including the university itself, the Ohio State University Development Fund, gifts and bequests of individuals, foundations and other organizations and many industrial firms.

Some grants have been established for students who will specialize in certain fields, but several hundred general scholarships, valued at $225 and renewable for four years, are awarded annually to Ohio State freshmen, regardless of their fields of study.

Also available to first-year students ranking as "outstanding freshmen" are honor scholarships, valued at $400 and $600 and renewable for four years.

THE UNIVERSITY provides a number of Education Awards for entering freshmen who will be enrolled in elementary or secondary education or a "Study Service" program.

These four-year scholarships are valued at $75 per quarter, or a total of $900.

At least 30 $225 grants (renewable for four years) will go to freshmen on the basis of the Ohio General Scholarship Test for High School Seniors.

Approximately 10 Development Fund Prize Awards, covering tuition and non-returnable fees, are given annually through alumni clubs. Some scholarships, usually valued at $200, are provided by yearly gifts from local clubs of the Ohio State University Mothers' Association.

Several types of scholarships, in the amounts of $200 to $300, are available to qualified Ohio high school seniors who will be enrolled in Ohio State's College of Agriculture and School of Home Economics.

Certain awards are restricted to residents of certain geographic areas of Ohio and are open to entering freshmen. Also available are a variety of special scholarships and other awards, some competitive, ranging from $100 to $2,000 in value.

Despite the many types of scholarships given, a high school senior need submit only one application to Ohio State to be considered for the awards. Factors on which grants are made are: scholastic rank in upper one-third of high school, a class, principal's recommendation, and financial need.

Application forms and information may be obtained from Rodney J. Harrison, Director, University Scholarships Office, 112 Student Services Bldg., Ohio State University, Columbus 10, Ohio.

Ike Likes Idea Of U.S. Visits by Russian Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says it would be a wonderful thing to bring a lot of Russian students to the United States and let them stay a full year even if the Soviet admits no American students.

The President was chatting informally with a group of senators after a White House ceremony observing the 10th anniversary of the Smith-Mundt Act. The Voice of America and the U. S. Information Agency were set up under this law.

The President said he had received a letter from someone who proposed bringing as many Russian students to the United States as possible for an entire year.

"What an idea it would be," Eisenhower remarked.

High Schools Receive Books On Journalism

All high schools in Ohio have been sent copies of "Your Career in Ohio Journalism," an 18-page booklet about journalism career opportunities in Ohio. G. Gordon Strong, president of the Ohio Newspaper Association, announced today. The copies will be placed in school libraries and in the hands of journalism and guidance personnel in the schools.

The booklet was prepared by the Association's Education for Journalism Committee to encourage qualified young men and women in high school to consider a career in newspaper work or some other field of journalism. The booklet points out that newspaper training and experience is basic for success in most journalism fields.

The ONA committee prepared the booklet after a study showed not enough qualified college journalism graduates have been available over the past several years to fill the job openings created each year in Ohio journalism. Studies have also shown college journalism enrollments have decreased, although good, interesting jobs are available, salaries are up, and the field is expanding with the increased population growth and the demand for more information by the general public.

The booklet reviews the general field and the kinds of jobs required on newspapers, the employment and salary prospects, and the Ohio colleges and universities offering journalism instruction.

The Ohio Newspaper Assn. is the state-wide organization of daily and weekly newspapers and their publishers and editors. The Circleville Herald is a member.

Research Effort 'Hurt' by Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics says that rising costs and governmental economy have cut its research efforts as compared with those of the Soviet Union.

"Thus, America's relative position in aeronautical science has been deteriorating," said James H. Doolittle, famous retired Air Force general and NACA chairman in a letter accompanying the agency's 43rd annual report to Congress and the White House.

Much of the annual report of NACA, which operates with a staff of almost 8,000 scientists and technicians, was devoted to the problems of high speed military and commercial aviation.

'Bold Journey' Goes to School

TV Show Is Topic Of Special Report

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Journey (ABC-TV, Monday nights), that excellent program of travel and adventure, is going to school these days.

To mark the enthusiastic reception of the idea ABC-TV today presents a special report entitled, appropriately enough, "Bold Journey Goes to School."

There's nothing particularly formal about the plan. Last September the sponsors began sending to teachers who requested it a printed guide that describes each program and some suggested subjects for discussion.

About two million students in 50,000 classrooms are using the guides as a basis for discussing subjects related to the programs.

Dr. Irene Cypher of the Department of Communications in Education at New York University, under whose direction the guides are prepared, emphasizes that "this is not a strict school program." But "it has been a great opportunity for many to discover that study can be humanly interesting," she says.

As an example of how the plan works, take "The Flight of the Blue Bird," one of the best programs Bold Journey has done. There was distributed a printed synopsis of the film made by Neal and Linden Blue on a 110-day flight through Central and South America in a light plane. Appended were suggestions for discussion both before and after students saw the film on television.

Students are under no obligation to their teachers to view the programs at home, but teachers say they have found great spontaneous interest in the idea.

OSU Scholarships Due for Freshmen

COLUMBUS — Some $350,000 in student scholarships will be awarded at Ohio State University for the 1958-59 academic year, Rodney J. Harrison, director of the University Scholarships Office, announced today.

He said also that the application deadline for these awards has been advanced to March 15 — a month sooner than in previous years — to permit earlier action on the applications by the University Scholarship Committee.

The scholarship grants vary in amount and are provided from a variety of sources, including the university itself, the Ohio State University Development Fund, gifts and bequests of individuals, foundations and other organizations and many industrial firms. Some grants have been established for students who will specialize in certain fields, but several hundred general scholarships, valued at $225 and renewable for four years, are awarded annually to Ohio State freshmen, regardless of their fields of study.

Also available to first-year students ranking as "outstanding freshmen" are honor scholarships, valued at $400 and $600 and renewable for four years.

THE UNIVERSITY provides a number of Education Awards for entering freshmen who will be enrolled in elementary or secondary education or a "Study Service" program.

These four-year scholarships are valued at $75 per quarter, or a total of $300.

At least 30 $225 grants (renewable for four years) will go to freshmen on the basis of the Ohio General Scholarship Test for High School Seniors.

Approximately 10 Development Fund Prize Awards, covering tuition and non-returnable fees, are given annually through alumni clubs. Some scholarships, usually valued at $200, are provided by yearly gifts from local clubs of the Ohio State University Mothers' Association.

Several types of scholarships, in the amounts of $200 to $300, are available to qualified Ohio high school seniors who will be enrolled in Ohio State's College of Agriculture and School of Home Economics.

Certain awards are restricted to residents of certain geographic areas of Ohio and are open to entering freshmen. Also available are a variety of special scholarships and other awards, some competitive, ranging from $100 to $2,000 in value.

Despite the many types of scholarships given, a high school senior need submit only one application to Ohio State to be considered for the awards. Factors on which grants are made are: scholastic rank in upper one-third of high school, a class, principal's recommendation, and financial need.

Application forms and information may be obtained from Rodney J. Harrison, Director, University Scholarships Office, 112 Student Services Bldg., Ohio State University, Columbus 10, Ohio.

Joan List Named Queen

The basketball homecoming queen at Jackson Twp. School is Joan List. Her attendants are Mary Hinton, freshman; Sue Gilmore, sophomore; Ethel Gilmore, junior; and Agnes Near, senior.

The homecoming game will be played with Ashville January 31. The dance honoring the queen and her court will begin at 10 p. m. and last until midnight. Music will be presented by the Melodiers.

Ike Likes Idea Of U.S. Visits by Russian Students

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower says it would be a wonderful thing to bring a lot of Russian students to the United States and let them stay a full year even if the Soviet admits no American students.

The President was chatting informally with a group of senators after a White House ceremony observing the 10th anniversary of the Smith-Mundt Act. The Voice of America and the U. S. Information Agency were set up under this law.

The President said he had received a letter from someone who proposed bringing as many Russian students to the United States as possible for an entire year. "What an idea it would be," Eisenhower remarked.

High Schools Receive Books On Journalism

All high schools in Ohio have been sent copies of "Your Career in Ohio Journalism," an 18-page booklet about journalism career opportunities in Ohio. G. Gordon Strong, president of the Ohio Newspaper Association, announced today. The copies will be placed in school libraries and in the hands of journalism and guidance personnel in the schools.

The booklet was prepared by the Association's Education for Journalism Committee to encourage qualified young men and women in high school to consider a career in newspaper work or some other field of journalism. The booklet points out that newspaper training and experience is basic for success in most journalism fields.

The ONA committee prepared the booklet after a study showed not enough qualified college journalism graduates have been available for the past several years to fill the job openings created each year in Ohio journalism. Studies have also shown college journalism enrollments have decreased, although good, interesting jobs are available, salaries are up, and the field is expanding with the increased population growth and the demand for more information by the general public.

The booklet reviews the general field and the kinds of jobs required on newspapers, the employment and salary prospects, and the Ohio colleges and universities offering journalism instruction.

The Ohio Newspaper Assn. is the state-wide organization of daily and weekly newspapers and their publishers and editors. The Circleville Herald is a member.

Research Effort 'Hurt' by Economy

WASHINGTON — The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics says that rising costs and governmental economy have cut its research efforts as compared with those of the Soviet Union.

"Thus, America's relative position in aeronautical science has been deteriorating," said James H. Doolittle, famous retired Air Force general and NACA chairman in a letter accompanying the agency's 43rd annual report to Congress and the White House.

Much of the annual report of NACA, which operates with a staff of almost 8,000 scientists and technicians, was devoted to the problems of high speed military and commercial aviation.

Labor Peace May Continue

During the past year there were fewer labor strikes, and fewer men involved in them, than in any year since the end of the war. There were 500,000 fewer workers on strike than during 1956.

This is an excellent trend which will be all the better if it continues through 1958. There is some doubt that it will do so.

Business and profits have receded slightly. Most economists calculate a turn to higher volume and profits will not come until the second half of the year. Several contracts, involving millions of workers in big industries, will be up for renewal during the period of slowed-down business.

Organized labor has already enunciated its policy, which is to press for higher wages than ever before. In response to the view of the minority among union leaders, that labor should hold the wage line until business improves, President George Meany of the AFL-CIO and Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers contend that higher wages will increase purchasing power and shorter hours will spread the work and prevent unemployment.

In wage negotiations business and industrial leaders undoubtedly will take the opposite view. Higher wages and shorter hours will raise their operating costs, compel price hikes and increase consumer buying resistance.

It mutually acceptable agreements are reached without strikes, and 1958 extends the good record of 1957, it will be a welcome outcome.

Swat that Fly, Save World!

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That, if you think rabbits know how to multiply, consider the fruit fly, which produces as many as 25 generations in a single year. If all the descendants of a pair of fruit flies lived and bred, in just 12 months they'd make a ball 96 million miles in diameter. So swat that fruit fly and save your world!

That in old Hungary a biga-

That if you're weary of paying laundry bills, cheer up. A textile-like paper that can be used for making clothing is being developed. "I'm tired of pine shirts; don't you have anything new in elm?"

That the great ambition of little Princess Anne of Britain is to own a kitten. But she can't have one because Queen Elizabeth's spirited Corgi terriers won't allow a cat near Buckingham Palace.

That the phrase "cool as a cucumber" doesn't make much sense. Thermometer tests have proved that on a hot day the inside of a cucumber is warmer than the air outside. Just what can a man believe?

That one third of the driving in the United States is now done by women. And that doesn't even include the back seat driving.

Defendant Ailing; Mistrial Ordered

CANTON (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Paul J. Webber today declared a mistrial in the first degree murder trial of Sam Smegardis, 70, who was hospitalized with a heart condition a week ago.

The mistrial was ordered after Smegardis' physician, saying the defendant would have to be hospitalized for two or three more weeks. Smegardis is accused of shooting Nick Kinios, 70, at a Canton coffee house last May 28. No date was set by the judge for a new trial.

Take Simple Cold Seriously

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Since we produced a vaccine for Asian flu so quickly, why haven't we come up with one to protect us from virus pneumonia?

Even though virus pneumonia is seldom fatal, it usually does put its victim in bed with subsequent loss of time from work.

Why, then, hasn't medical science developed protective measures?

Well, there are at least 17 different viruses which may cause pneumonia. These viruses are extremely difficult to identify. Generally, by the time we could identify the virus which has struck an individual, he would be either well or dead.

Therefore, one of the best protections against virus pneumonia still is the age-old advice: go to bed and call your doctor.

Virus pneumonia begins insidiously about the fourth or fifth day of a simple cold.

You probably will have a general sensation of chilliness, a severe headache and a fever varying from 100 to 103 degrees. You will lose your appetite.

After a few more days, you probably will develop a dry, hacking cough which usually will be worse at night.

For several days, the cough will remain dry and tight. Finally, the coughing will produce a thin, watery sputum which may be streaked with blood.

Long before your illness reaches

this stage, you should have called your doctor. He may want to prescribe codeine in severe cases to get rid of your cough, and other medicines to soothe your throat.

Chloromycetin and aureomycin are valuable drugs in treating virus pneumonia. And penicillin, of course, might come in handy in case of a secondary infection.

Most attacks of the disease will run their course in about 10 days to two weeks. But even after this, you will be bothered considerably by the after-effects.

For several days, maybe even weeks, you will have a poor appetite, become extremely fatigued and have little energy.

The easiest way to avoid all this is to get to bed the moment you feel a cold coming on. And stay there until your doctor tells you to get up.

Heroes in Music, Also

By George Sokolsky

When a pilot knows that his plane is a goner and that he has a split second to make the decision that may save lives or lose them, he is a hero. He has faced the consequences of his decision and has dared to do the unorthodox.

So, Walter Hagen exhibited the courage and aptness such as gave Arturo Toscanini his start. When the conductor, Pietro Cimara, was beginning to slump in the pit in the Metropolitan Opera House, Hagen, a second violinist, stepped up to prevent the conductor from falling. Had no one stepped forward, there could have been confusion, a scream, a mad rush, pandemonium, hysteria. Who knows what can happen when 3,000 are crowded into a theater?

But Hagen, 37, did step out of line. He was a little late. Pietro Cimara already was suffering a stroke. So Hagen seized the baton and kept the play on the stage. It was only for a short interval until they found an older and more experienced conductor to close the show.

Toscanini became a conductor because of his being ready, on the spot, when fate required him to be. Hagen should have a similar opportunity. In an age of feather-bedding and coffee-breaks, of 40-hour weeks and punctilious gradations and seniority, of not sticking one's neck out and of not daring to get out on a limb, it is a mark of encouragement to see a young man stand up, see his duty and do it.

Although Walter Hagen was born in Munich, he came to the United States with his parents when he was 3. His training, education, habits of mind and culture are therefore wholly American. His father is an organist and the family lived in Philadelphia, Detroit and Buffalo where they finally settled down. Walter was undoubtedly a prodigy because he played the Mendelssohn and Bruch Violin Concertos with the Buffalo Symphony when he was 12 years old.

He won the Rochester Prize Scholarship and studied at the Eastman School of Music where he met his wife, Carrie Fenton, whose father also is an organist and choir director.

Carrie is a pianist and plays the oboe and the organ. After a tour in the Army, Walter became a fiddler in the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

In 1941, Walter Hagen spent a summer at Tanglewood, in the Berkshires, where the Music School is producing such a galaxy of American musicians. Tanglewood has an atmosphere and an attitude which are undoubtedly best portrayed in the personality of another American, Leonard Bernstein, who has now reached a peak in music by becoming the musical director of the Philharmonic Orchestra in New York.

Bernstein enjoys a mass popularity among young people which is understood better as one listens to him teach the meaning of music to children over television on Saturday mornings. Bernstein possesses the pedagogic gift of explaining the abstruse in the idiom of the day.

And I could not help recalling how Serge Koussevitzky was

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world is a little too old to claim it's a crazy, mixed-up kid. And maybe it isn't crazy. But it's mixed up. The Baghdad Pact is an example.

Secretary of State Dulles right now is in Ankara, Turkey, at a meeting of the Baghdad Pact nations: Britain, Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan. We not only support this alliance with guns and money. We pushed the ideas.

But we won't join it.

This alliance was created as a military defense against Russia along its southern flank. It is one more link in a chain of alliances this country sponsored around the world. Examples: NATO in Western Europe, SEATO in Southeast Asia.

The Arabs of the Middle East—but not all of them, since Iraq is an Arab country and is in the Baghdad Pact—don't like the pact arrangements.

Besides, after their years of experience with the colonial-minded British and French, they are justly sensitive on the subject of colonialism and suspicious of any big power wielding influence in the area.

So this country—and this seems to be the main reason for our not joining—stays out of the pact as added assurance to the Arab world that we have no colonial intentions but only want to help the area.

Since we're actually up to our necks in the Baghdad Pact we seem to be achieving what we want without exposing ourselves to the anti-American propaganda barrages of Egypt and Russia which would be stepped up if we joined.

Yet we could hardly be deeper in the pact if we did join, and this is something both the Russians and the Middle East Arabs know.

While letting ourselves be considered officially only as an associate member, we assure the Baghdad Pact countries we will come to their assistance if they're hit with Communist aggression. The only Communist country in the area is Russia.

But we also extend the same promise to the rest of the Middle East—if they ever need it and ask for it.

Another reason for staying out of the pact may be concern about Russian reaction to having us as full-fledged member of the Baghdad alliance on the Soviet doorstep. But since we're the main support of the pact anyway, that couldn't mean much.

It could have been hoped—when the pact was created several years ago—that besides its value as a military defense against Russia it would help keep the Soviets out of the Middle East. Some of the member countries lie between the two.

But the Russians just skipped around the roadblock by giving arms to Egypt and help to Syria. They proved two fine starting points for the Soviets to start spreading their influence in the Middle East and into Africa.

But things will really get heated if this country heeds the request of Pakistan, made Monday at Ankara, for modern weapons as a defense against Russia. The most modern would be missiles. If missile bases were set up just across the frontier from Russia in the Baghdad area, any complaints the Russians might have about our joining the pact would sound like mild complaints compared with their protests about the bases.

Labor Peace May Continue

During the past year there were fewer labor strikes, and fewer men involved in them, than in any year since the end of the war. There were 500,000 fewer workers on strike than during 1956.

This is an excellent trend which will be all the better if it continues through 1958. There is some doubt that it will do so.

Business and profits have receded slightly. Most economists calculate a turn to higher volume and profits will not come until the second half of the year. Several contracts, involving millions of workers in big industries, will be up for renewal during the period of slowed-down business.

Organized labor has already enunciated its policy, which is to press for higher wages than ever before. In response to the view of the minority among union leaders, that labor should hold the wage line until business improves. President George Meany of the AFL-CIO and Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers contend that higher wages will increase purchasing power and shorter hours will spread the work and prevent unemployment.

In wage negotiations business and industrial leaders undoubtedly will take the opposite view. Higher wages and shorter hours will raise their operating costs, compel price hikes and increase consumer buying resistance.

It mutually acceptable agreements are reached without strikes, and 1958 extends the good record of 1957, it will be a welcome outcome.

Swat that Fly, Save World!

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That, if you think rabbits know how to multiply, consider the fruit fly, which produces as many as 25 generations in a single year. If all the descendants of a pair of fruit flies lived and bred, in just 12 months they'd make a ball 96 million miles in diameter. So swat that fruit fly and save your world!

That some people are afraid of a smart doctor. After William Harvey published a paper early in the 17th century on his discovery of the circulation of the blood, almost all his patients deserted him, although he was still the trusted physician of two kings.

That if you need calcium here is a way to get it cheaply: save your eggshells, dry them thoroughly, then grind them fine enough for comfortable swallowing. But don't over do it—you might sprout feathers.

That in old Hungary a big-mist was subjected to a cruel and unusual punishment. He was compelled to live with both his wives.

That if you're weary of paying laundry bills, cheer up. A textile-like paper that can be used for making clothing is being developed. "I'm tired of pine shirts; don't you have anything new in elm?"

That the great ambition of little Princess Anne of Britain is to own a kitten. But she can't have one because Queen Elizabeth's spirited Corgi terriers won't allow a cat near Buckingham Palace.

That the phrase "cool as a cucumber" doesn't make much sense. Thermometer tests have proved that on a hot day the inside of a cucumber is warmer than the air outside. Just what can a man believe?

That one third of the driving in the United States is now done by women. And that doesn't even include the back seat driving.

That a Navy doctor found "relatively older men" stationed in

That babies have several times the power of adults to eliminate deadly radioactive strontium from their bodies.

That psychiatrists believe most Don Juans (career lady chasers) are actually less, not more, virile than ordinary men. The poor showoffs are trying to prove something to themselves that simply isn't so.

Heroes in Music, Also

By George Sokolsky

When a pilot knows that his plane is a goner and that he has a split second to make the decision that may save lives or lose them, he is a hero. He has faced the consequences of his decision and has dared to do the unorthodox.

So, Walter Hagen exhibited the courage and aptness such as gave Arturo Toscanini his start. When the conductor, Pietro Cimara, was beginning to slump in the pit in the Metropolitan Opera House, Hagen, a second violinist, stepped up to prevent the conductor from falling. Had no one stepped forward, there could have been confusion, a scream, a mad rush, pandemonium, hysteria. Who knows what can happen when 3,000 are crowded into a theater?

But Hagen, 37, did step out of line. He was a little late. Pietro Cimara already was suffering a stroke. So Hagen seized the baton and kept the play on the stage. It was only for a short interval until they found an older and more experienced conductor to close the show.

Toscanini became a conductor because of his being ready, on the spot, when fate required him to be. Hagen should have a similar opportunity. In an age of feather-bedding and coffee-breaks, of 40-hour weeks and punctilious gradations and seniority, of not sticking one's neck out and of not daring to get out on a limb, it is a mark of encouragement to see a young man stand up, see his duty and do it.

Although Walter Hagen was born in Munich, he came to the United States with his parents

when he was 3. His training, education, habits of mind and culture are therefore wholly American. His father is an organist and the family lived in Philadelphia, Detroit and Buffalo where they finally settled down. Walter was undoubtedly a prodigy because he played the Mendelssohn and Bruch Violin Concertos with the Buffalo Symphony when he was 12 years old.

He won the Rochester Prize Scholarship and studied at the Eastman School of Music where he met his wife, Carrie Fenton, whose father also is an organist and choir director.

Carrie is a pianist and plays the oboe and the organ. After a tour in the Army, Walter became a fiddler in the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

In 1941, Walter Hagen spent a summer at Tanglewood, in the Berkshires, where the Music School is producing such a galaxy of American musicians. Tanglewood has an atmosphere and an attitude which are undoubtedly best portrayed in the personality of another American, Leonard Bernstein, who has now reached a peak in music by becoming the musical director of the Philharmonic Orchestra in New York.

Bernstein enjoys a mass popularity among young people which is understood better as one listens to him teach the meaning of music to children over television on Saturday mornings. Bernstein possesses the pedagogic gift of explaining the abstruse in the idiom of the day.

And I could not help recalling how Serge Koussevitzky was

Take Simple Cold Seriously

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Since we produced a vaccine for Asian flu so quickly, why haven't we come up with one to protect us from virus pneumonia?

Even though virus pneumonia is seldom fatal, it usually does put its victim in bed with subsequent loss of time from work.

Why, then, hasn't medical science developed protective measures?

Well, there are at least 17 different viruses which may cause pneumonia. These viruses are ultramicroscopic in size and extremely difficult to identify. Generally, by the time we could identify the virus which has struck an individual, he would be either well or dead.

Therefore, one of the best protections against virus pneumonia still is the age-old advice: go to bed and call your doctor.

Virus pneumonia begins insidiously about the fourth or fifth day of a simple cold.

You probably will have a general sensation of chilliness, a severe headache and a fever varying from 100 to 103 degrees. You will lose your appetite.

After a few more days, you probably will develop a dry, hacking cough which usually will be worse at night.

For several days, the cough will remain dry and tight. Finally, the coughing will produce a thin, watery sputum which may be streaked with blood.

Long before your illness reaches

this stage, you should have called your doctor. He may want to prescribe codeine in severe cases to get rid of your cough, and other medicines to soothe your throat.

Chloromycetin and aureomycin are valuable drugs in treating virus pneumonia. And penicillin, of course, might come in handy in case of a secondary infection.

Most attacks of the disease will run their course in about 10 days to two weeks. But even after this, you will be bothered considerably by the after-effects.

For several days, maybe even weeks, you will have a poor appetite, become extremely fatigued and have little energy.

The easiest way to avoid all this is to get to bed the moment you feel a cold coming on. And stay there until your doctor tells you to get up.

Banks Wooing Women, Kids These Days

Fashion Shows, Teas, Free Jars of Honey Used in Campaigns

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Women and children first is the slogan today of a growing sector of the banking fraternity.

Wooing their friendship and business has wrought changes in banking architecture both inside and out. It plays a part in locating new banking offices throughout the suburbs and particularly in shopping centers.

To please women customers and some small fry depositors, too, the banks are offering special services and facilities. The trend has brought into the banking business such once unheard of things as fashion shows and seminars on family finance, afternoon teas and such give aways as jars of honey, flower seeds or potted plants.

The big switchover by bankers in postwar years from one of austere dignity to one of all out salesmanship with an eye on the ladies is, you may be sure, a cold and calculated one. Bankers have found that women, often with youngsters in tow, do an increasing share of the family's banking business.

The American Bankers Ass'n. found in a survey of the public's banking habits and crotchets that today the housewife pays more family bills than her husband, often plays a top role in family budgeting, and enters the bank as often as her spouse. He tops her on going to the bank to put money in. She outstrips him in going to the bank to take it out.

Banks now compete with the most modern department stores and specialty shops in their interior decorating. Comfortable chairs, lively murals, flower boxes and piped in music sometimes startle the old timers. In the Manhattan Savings Bank of New York there are song birds.

The First National Bank of St. Louis offers safe deposit boxes in chartreuse, turquoise, citron yellow, fawn grey, desert tan and shocking pink.

In many powder rooms across the nation soft lights flatter the lady customer.

The bank of New York's new Fifth Avenue office has a generally modernistic decor, but its Cold Room is richly decked out in classical style as a retiring room for women to prepare deposit slips, clip coupons, meet one another in town, or maybe just rest their feet.

It has a large painting of "The Temple of Love" over the fireplace, damask walls, thick carpets, and fluted ivory woodwork trimmed with gold leaf. A woman vice president presides over it from an adjoining alcove.

The bank customer team of mother and moppet gets the works in many banks. Some provide high chairs in which to deposit junior while making out bank deposit slips. Some have sections equipped with playpens, child sized furniture, picture books, building blocks, jigsaw puzzles, dolls and free lollypops.

Some, like the first National Bank in Geneva, Ill., have a hydraulic lift to boost junior depositors up to the window.

Limaite Admits Bank Robbery

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — The Allen County sheriff's office reported John Butcher, a Lima salesman, admitted he robbed the First National Bank of Celina of about $1,000 in cash Monday.

Butcher was arrested shortly after the robbery. A Celina service station operator, Glen Krogman, became suspicious of Butcher's manner as he entered the bank and jotted down the robber's automobile license number.

Police said Butcher, wearing a mask fashioned from a silk stocking, held the bank manager, George Wilson, and two others at gun point for nearly 30 minutes while Wilson worked to open the bank's vault.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Tom and I have been married 18 years, have three lovely children, own our own home and have no financial problems. We have many friends, share the same hobbies and our life together has been happy.

We both are in our forties and until recently ours was a contented lot. The subject requiring advice is a delicate one, but I hope that you will be kind enough to advise us.

About a year ago Tom became impotent. His doctor found nothing wrong with him physically, and worry about the condition became something of an obsession with Tom.

Finally he took a vacation—alone, for the first time since we married. When he returned he told me that he had turned to other women in desperation, but failed there also. He said this was the first time he had been unfaithful to me in any way, and I believe him. After this frank talk we dropped the subject and have gone on as though the incident never occurred.

Meanwhile, the condition continues and while Tom appears to accept it now, I know he is upset. He consulted another doctor, who also could find nothing wrong with him physically.

Now we are travelling together, and other than for this problem we are very happy. I know Tom loves me as I love him; and I would do almost anything to help him.

DEAR F. R.: Since Tom's doctors find nothing wrong with him organically, the next diagnostic probability to check is that he may suffer from psychic impotence.

That is to say, from unconscious emotional conflicts, resentment, etc., in relation to you—and possibly also towards the women who reared him—that finally have "got the best of him" in middle age, as his libidinal drive declines.

Perhaps his sex life until recently was simply a routine expenditure of libidinal vigor, that even negative emotions couldn't blockade. But now that he is growing older and his constitution more fatigued, maybe he is more mental than physical in his response to life.

And on the score of his feelings for womankind, symbolized in his wife, maybe his mind is a jumble of anger, dissatisfaction, and sense of defeatism—of being owned, bossed and led by the nose in the name of "love."

This is the emotional soil in Short was arrested last Sept. 23 and charged with assaulting Mrs. Irene Bloom. Short was out on $1,000 bond at the time on an earlier charge of cutting Mrs. Bloom with intent to wound.

Authorities sent Short to Lima State Hospital in December. He was brought back to county jail here last week to await a hearing.

Search Continues For Missing Boy

WILLOWS, Calif. (AP) — The search for 12-year-old Boy Scout Dennis Wurschmidt went into its fourth day today with no trace of the boy in rugged, snow-packed Mendocino National Forest.

A storm left three feet of snow in the area that night. Bloodhounds have been unable to pick up the boy's scent.

Jury To Get Case Against Accused Reds

CLEVELAND (AP) — The case against one woman and six men accused of a conspiracy to circumvent the Taft-Hartley Act by filing false non-Communist affidavits goes to a U. S. District Court jury today.

The jury of seven men and five women is to begin deliberation after receiving its charge from Federal Judge Paul C. Weick.

In closing arguments, two defense attorneys attacked the reliability of Fred L. Gardner of Butte, Mont., a former Communist party member, and other former communists who testified for the government.

Attorneys F. David Scribner and Stephen M. Young attacked Gardner's testimony as being hearsay. They also attacked as mercenary the four who had testified they were communists as undercover men for the FBI.

U. S. Atty. Sumner Canary, closing the argument for the government, said there was every reason to believe the testimony given by eight former Communist party members. He said the conspiracy was part of a plan of the Communist party in the United States to circumvent the Taft-Hartley Act.

That act requires the filing of non-Communist affidavits by union officers before the union can avail itself of the services of the National Labor Relations Board.

The defendants are Marie Reed Haug and her husband Fred, and Hyman Lumer, all of Cleveland; Eric Reinthal of Willowick; Sam Reed, and James West, both of Chicago, and Andrew Remes of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Brothers Nabbed Making 'Quarters' Out of Pennies

agents have charged two unemployed brothers with fraudulently altering currency in a coin making operation in which they were accused of combining washers and pennies to make "quarters" for vending machines.

The brothers, George Whitt, 23, and Charles Whitt, 20—were arrested in suburban Sharonville. Their "mint" consisted of two large hammers, an iron stand, two slabs of iron and several boxes of spark plug gaskets.

Gerard McCann, special agent in charge of the Secret Service here, said the brothers made the fake coins by taking a spark plug gasket or washer and smashing a penny into the center hole. The gaskets or washers were the size of quarters but the pennies had to be smashed into them to give them the proper weight.

Few Movie Musicals Tagged For Hollywood Production

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Whatever happened to the movie musical?

A glance at the 1958 schedules of the Hollywood studios shows a dearth of song-and-dance films, which amounted to 40 per cent of movie production in wartime years. Now the film musical appears to be almost facing extinction.

Twentieth Century-Fox, onetime haven of Alice Faye and Betty Grable, has only one out-and-out musical in the works — "Can Can" — and it's postponed again. Paramount, where Hope and Crosby once cavorted, promises only an Elvis Presley film and possibly the life of jazzman Red Nichols.

Warner Brothers, which started the musical trend of the '30s with Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and company, has scheduled "Damn Yankees" and no other musicals.

RKO, which gave Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers to the world, is dark, and Universal-International is halting all films. Columbia has planned no big musicals.

MGM, long the citadel of the musical, is doing only a fraction of its once-heavy musical schedule. The only "pure" musicals on the 1958 slate appear to be the Broadway hits, "The Boy Friend" and "The Bells Are Ringing." Other films "with music" are being planned.

Of course, there are a number of rock 'n' roll quickies being made, but they hardly add much luster to the screen. And there's not much chance of musicals coming from abroad.

What has happened? I offer these observations:

1. Musicals are expensive to make. It's an economy-minded era.

2. More and more films are being made by independent producers. A tune film can take as much as six months to complete. Independents prefer a straight drama which can be filmed in six weeks.

3. Musicals are a costly risk. While they were surefire in war times, when everyone sought escapist entertainment, they are no cinch now.

Married Boy OKd For School Study

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—A married 16-year-old youth will be re-admitted to regularly scheduled classes at Hicksville High School by order of Common Pleas Judge Dan Batt.

The ruling, directed at the Hicksville School Board, came Monday after a suit was filed by Keith Tomlinson on behalf of his son Donald R., who had been refused permission to attend regular classes with unmarried pupils. The youth had been offered a chance to continue his studies on a basis of specially scheduled classes.

Judge Batt said: "There is no statute in Ohio relative to the right of a married child who desires to attend the public school."

He said a hearing on the case had revealed no evidence of immorality or misconduct on the part of Tomlinson.

Young man with a problem...

You live in one of the six states served by the Norfolk and Western — Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, North Carolina, Maryland and Kentucky.

Industry is vital to the progress of these states — the starting point for virtually all our employment. One hundred new industrial jobs create 74 other jobs outside industry. And unless industrial job increases keep pace with population increases, our young friend here, and many of his predecessors now in their teens, may find jobs as scarce as pockets in diapers.

That's why the N&W for many years has waged an all-out campaign, spending millions of dollars in an extensive national advertising program to attract new industry to its territory — to help provide new jobs, improve general business and its own business and to keep its own employment as high as possible. For more than 50 years the N&W has maintained an efficient Industrial and Agricultural Department, staffed by seasoned specialists, who work constantly to bring new industries along the railroad. And that's why the railway will continue to work faithfully hand-in-hand with state and local governmental, business and civic groups who have the same objectives.

Positive results have been achieved. For example, during the 10-year period 1948-'57, 606 new plants were located and expansions were made by 891 established plants in N&W states. This created 64,240 new industrial jobs and 47,537 new jobs outside industry... an average of 30 new jobs every day for the past 10 years.

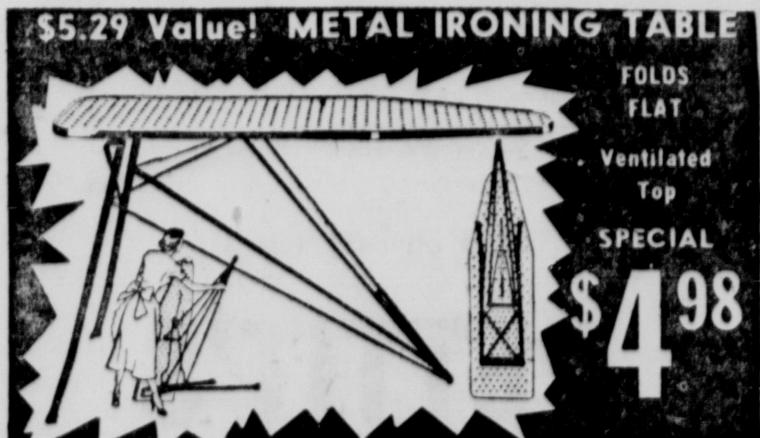

But — impressive as this increase is, our population increase is simply more impressive. During those 10 years, population in the six states increased an estimated 4,175,000.

The answer, of course, is greater production and more and more industrial growth in this progressive territory. It's part of the job for all of us — the N&W, state and local government, business, civic groups and private individuals — to work together and roll out the welcome carpet to industry — and keep our region up in front.

Banks Wooing Women, Kids These Days

Fashion Shows, Teas, Free Jars of Honey Used in Campaigns

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — Women and children first is the slogan today of a growing sector of the banking fraternity.

Wooing their friendship and business has wrought changes in banking architecture both inside and out. It plays a part in locating new banking offices throughout the suburbs and particularly in shopping centers.

To please women customers and some small fry depositors, too, the banks are offering special services and facilities. The trend has brought into the banking business such once unheard of things as fashion shows and seminars on family finance, afternoon teas and such give aways as jars of honey, flower seeds or potted plants.

The big switchover by bankers in postwar years from one of austere dignity to one of all out salesmanship with an eye on the ladies is, you may be sure, a cold and calculated one. Bankers have found that women, often with youngsters in tow, do an increasing share of the family's banking business.

The American Bankers Assn. found in a survey of the public's banking habits and crochets that today the housewife pays more family bills than her husband, often plays a top role in family budgeting, and enters the bank as often as her spouse. He tops her on going to the bank to put money in. She outstrips him in going to the bank to take it out.

Banks now compete with the most modern department stores and specialty shops in their interior decorating. Comfortable chairs, lively murals, flower boxes and piped in music sometimes startle the old timers. In the Manhattan Savings Bank of New York there are song birds.

The First National Bank of St. Louis offers safe deposit boxes in chartreuse, turquoise, citron yellow, fawn grey, desert tan and shocking pink.

In many powder rooms across the nation soft lights flatter the lady customer.

The bank of New York's new Fifth Avenue office has a generally modernistic decor, but its Cold Room is richly decked out in classical style as a retiring room for women to prepare deposit slips, clip coupons, meet one another in town, or maybe just rest their feet.

It has a large painting of "The Temple of Love" over the fireplace, damask walls, thick carpets, and fluted ivory woodwork trimmed with gold leaf. A woman vice president presides over it from an adjoining alcove.

The bank customer team of mother and moppet gets the works in many banks. Some provide high chairs in which to deposit junior while making out bank deposit slips. Some have sections equipped with playpens, child sized furniture, picture books, building blocks, jigsaw puzzles, dolls and free lollypops.

Some, like the first National Bank in Geneva, Ill., have a hydraulic lift to boost junior depositors up to the window.

Limaite Admits Bank Robbery

LIMA, Ohio — The Allen County sheriff's office reported John Butcher, a Lima salesman, admitted he robbed the First National Bank of Celina of about $1,000 in cash Monday.

Butcher was arrested shortly after the robbery. A Celina service station operator, Glen Krogman, became suspicious of Butcher's manner as he entered the bank and jotted down the robber's automobile license number. Police said Butcher, wearing a mask fashioned from a silk stocking, held the bank manager, George Wilson, and two others at gun point for nearly 30 minutes while Wilson worked to open the bank's vault.

Zanesville Minister Heads Ohio Lutherans

MANSFIELD — The Rev. Herbert W. Veler, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Zanesville, was elected president of the Ohio Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America Monday.

He succeeds Dr. Fred C. Wiegman, killed in an automobile crash Dec. 3.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Tom and I have been married 18 years, have three lovely children, own our own home and have no financial problems. We have many friends, share the same hobbies and our life together has been happy.

We both are in our forties and until recently ours was a contented lot. The subject requiring advice is a delicate one, but I hope that you will be kind enough to advise us.

About a year ago Tom became impotent. His doctor found nothing wrong with him physically, and worry about the condition became something of an obsession with Tom.

Finally he took a vacation—alone, for the first time since we married. When he returned he told me that he had turned to other women in desperation, but failed there also. He said this was the first time he had been unfaithful to me in any way, and I believe him. After this frank talk we dropped the subject and have gone on as though the incident never occurred.

Meanwhile, the condition continues and while Tom appears to accept it now, I know he is upset. He consulted another doctor, who also could find nothing wrong with him physically.

Now we are travelling together, and other than for this problem we are very happy. I know Tom loves me as I love him; and I would do almost anything to help him.

DEAR F. R.: Since Tom's doctors find nothing wrong with him organically, the next diagnostic probability to check is that he may suffer from psychic impotence.

That is to say, from unconscious emotional conflicts, resentment, etc., in relation to you—and possibly also towards the women who reared him—that finally have "got the best of him" in middle age, as his libidinal drive declines.

Perhaps his sex life until recently was simply a routine expenditure of libidinal vigor, that even negative emotions couldn't block-ade. But now that he is growing older and his constitution more fatigued, maybe he is more mental than physical in his response to life.

And on the score of his feelings for womankind, symbolized in his wife, maybe his mind is a jumble of anger, dissatisfaction, and sense of defeatism—of being owned, bossed and led by the nose in the name of "love."

This is the emotional soil in

Lancaster Man, 52, Faces Bucyrus Rap

BUCYRUS — Back from Lima State Hospital, Harold A. Short of Lancaster is in Crawford County jail here today awaiting a hearing on a charge of assault.

Sheriff's deputies said the hearing probably will be held this week in common pleas court here. Short, 52, also is charged with breaking and entering.

Short was arrested last Sept. 23 and charged with assaulting Mrs. Irene Bloom. Short was out on $1,000 bond at the time on an earlier charge of cutting Mrs. Bloom with intent to wound.

Authorities sent Short to Lima State Hospital in December. He was brought back to county jail here last week to await a hearing.

Search Continues For Missing Boy

WILLOWS, Calif. — The search for 12-year-old Boy Scout Dennis Wurschmidt went into its fourth day today with no trace of the boy in rugged, snow-packed Mendocino National Forest.

Dennis and 11 other Scouts were playing "capture the flag" Saturday afternoon and Dennis had the flag. His companions, chasing him down precipitous Grindstone Canyon 40 miles west of here saw him slip on a log, get up and run on. They gave up the chase.

A storm left three feet of snow in the area that night. Bloodhounds have been unable to pick up the boy's scent.

Too Quick, Too Slow

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Earl Quick, 35, was too quick. He was fined $20 in Traffic Court here on speeding charge. Quick also was fined $15 for being too slow—in transferring license plates to a new car within the 10-day limit.

Jury To Get Case Against Accused Reds

CLEVELAND — The case against one woman and six men accused of a conspiracy to circumvent the Taft-Hartley Act by filing false non-Communist affidavits goes to a U. S. District Court jury today.

The jury of seven men and five women is to begin deliberation after receiving its charge from Federal Judge Paul C. Weick.

In closing arguments, two defense attorneys attacked the reliability of Fred L. Gardner of Butte, Mont., a former Communist party member, and other former communists who testified for the government.

Attorneys F. David Scribner and Stephen M. Young attacked Gardner's testimony as being hearsay. They also attacked as mercenary the four who had testified they were communists as undercover men for the FBI.

U. S. Atty. Sumner Canary, closing the argument for the government, said there was every reason to believe the testimony given by eight former Communist party members. He said the conspiracy was part of a plan of the Communist party in the United States to circumvent the Taft-Hartley Act. That act requires the filing of non-Communist affidavits by union officers before the union can avail itself of the services of the National Labor Relations Board.

The defendants are Marie Reed Haug and her husband Fred, and Hyman Lumer, all of Cleveland; Eric Reinthaler of Willowick; Sam Reed, and James West, both of Chicago, and Andrew Remes of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Brothers Nabbed Making 'Quarters' Out of Pennies

CINCINNATI — Secret Service agents have charged two unemployed brothers with fraudulently altering currency in a coin making operation in which they were accused of combining washers and pennies to make "quarters" for vending machines.

The brothers, George Whitt, 23, and Charles Whitt, 20—were arrested in suburban Sharonville. Their "mint" consisted of two large hammers, an iron stand, two slabs of iron and several boxes of spark plug gaskets.

Gerard McCann, special agent in charge of the Secret Service here, said the brothers made the fake coins by taking a spark plug gasket or washer and smashing a penny into the center hole. The gaskets or washers were the size of quarters but the pennies had to be smashed into them to give them the proper weight.

Rita Hayworth Due For 5th Husband

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Rita Hayworth and film producer James Hill have taken out a marriage license but plans for the wedding — her fifth, his first — still are tentative.

Hill, 41, and Miss Hayworth, 39, got the license Monday, telling newsmen only that the ceremony would be sometime early next month.

The actress' previous husbands were oilman Ed Judson, actor-director Orson Welles, Moslem Prince Aly Khan and singer Dick Haymes.

Few Movie Musicals Tagged For Hollywood Production

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Whatever happened to the movie musical?

A glance at the 1958 schedules of the Hollywood studios shows a dearth of song-and-dance films, which amounted to 40 per cent of movie production in wartime years. Now the film musical appears to be almost facing extinction.

Twentieth Century-Fox, onetime haven of Alice Faye and Betty Grable, has only one out-and-out musical in the works — "Can Can" — and it's postponed again. Paramount, where Hope and Crosby once cavorted, promises only an Elvis Presley film and possibly the life of jazzman Red Nichols.

Warner Brothers, which started the musical trend of the '30s with Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and company, has scheduled "Damn Yankees" and no other tunefilms.

RKO, which gave Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers to the world, is dark, and Universal-International is halting all films. Columbia has planned no big musicals.

MGM, long the citadel of the musical, is doing only a fraction of its once-heavy musical schedule. The only "pure" musicals on the 1958 slate appear to be the Broadway hits, "The Boy Friend" and "The Bells Are Ringing." Other films "with music" are being planned.

Of course, there are a number of rock 'n' roll quickies being made, but they hardly add much luster to the screen. And there's not much chance of musicals coming from abroad.

What has happened? I offer these observations:

1. Musicals are expensive to make. It's an economy-minded era.

2. More and more films are being made by independent producers. A tunefilm can take as much as six months to complete. Independents prefer a straight drama which can be filmed in six weeks.

3. Musicals are a costly risk. While they were surefire in war times, when everyone sought escapist entertainment, they are no cinch now.

4. American audiences get a surfeit of music on TV, especially this season.

5. The musical makers have run out of ideas.

But this report doesn't sound the death knell for musicals. The public will always welcome entertainment on a scale of "Oklahoma!" "The King And I," "My Fair Lady," "An American in Paris" and "Music Man."

Wildly enthusiastic. Bright and eager to learn! Full of opinions! That's the American co-ed at an age when everything's new and exciting.

Her conversation's about boys, Sputniks, delinquency, labor, boys, hairdos, clothes, Russia, boys, democracy, the national debt, boys.

It comes back to the same thing. The most prudent of students wants to be pretty and popular. Who can blame her? If she makes a study of the subject, she'll find it's not so difficult to make the grade with the big men on campus.

It calls for personality—an interest in what those all-important boys have to say, a sense of humor, a reputation for being a good sport and a smart girl but not a know-it-all.

Beauty figures importantly. Every young man wants his date to look attractive, and how easy it is if she's mastered make-up techniques! If she hasn't, it's wise to invest part of that allowance in a beauty course that will teach how to apply cosmetics to minimize bad features, play up good ones.

Cleanliness counts. A smart co-ed always looks spic and span. Hair's prettily arranged.

Fashion plays a part but a girl can make little money do big things if she's a good shopper.

Separates offer a budget way to dress attractively for campus days and big date occasions.

Well-chosen accessories are a trick to learn, too. They change the basic outfit's appearance.

Broccoli Gives 70 Per Cent Of Adult Required Vitamin A

By ALICE DENJOFF

Broccoli, that highly-developed member of the cabbage family, is one of our best protective foods. A half-cup of this green vegetable provides 70 per cent of the entire daily adult requirement of vitamin A, in addition to other important elements.

Broccoli is good whether it is served plain with all sorts of imaginative sauces or as part of a casserole.

Plain Broccoli with Browned Mushroom Sauce is a real treat.

To serve 6, wash and trim 1 large bunch fresh broccoli (about 2 lbs. as purchased.) Cut large stalks into halves or quarters.

Cook uncovered in a saucepan containing 1 in. boiling water and 1/2 tsp. salt for 5 min. Cover and continue cooking until broccoli is just crisp-tender, about 15 min.

Meantime, lightly brown 3 tsp. butter in a skillet. Add 1/2 c. chopped fresh mushrooms and saute quickly until just tender. Add 1 1/2 tsp. fresh lemon juice and 1/4 tsp. black pepper. Drain broccoli. Arrange on warm serving dish and top with mushroom sauce.

Sweet potatoes are plentiful now, too. Serve them frequently for their vital health properties as well as their fine flavor.

For example, try these Sweet Potato Patties.

To serve 8, combine 3 c. mashed sweet potatoes, 3 tsp. butter, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. black pepper and 2 tsp. sugar. Shape into 8 patties. Roll in 1 c. crushed cornflakes.

Bake on buttered cookie sheet in a preheated, moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 min. or until brown. Here is a fluffy, delicate Cranberry Custard that goes well after a hearty meal.

To serve 6-8, cook 1/2 c. sugar, 2 tsp. cornstarch, 2 tsp. water and 3/4 c. whole fresh cranberries together in a saucepan over low heat until very thick, about 15 min.

Gradually stir in 4 egg yolks. Cool.

Just before serving, add 1/4 tsp. salt to 4 egg whites and beat until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in 1/2 c. sugar and 1/2 tsp. grated orange rind. Fold into the custard mixture. Serve in sherbet glasses. Top with a dab of whipped cream and a sprig of mint.

Household Hints

Glaze to brush on rolls and bread before baking: slightly whipped egg white with two tablespoons of water makes a shiny light finish; and egg yolk mixed with two tablespoons of water makes a shiny golden brown finish.

Pancakes can be kept hot in a warm oven by stacking them alternately between layers of paper toweling.

Place poached eggs on toast rounds in shallow baking dish, pour over a rich cheese sauce and brown quickly under broiler; serve immediately.

Never wash eggs before they are ready to use because the natural protective coating on the shell helps to preserve the egg.

For party ice cream serving, make individual or large meringue shells; fill shell with ice cream; garnish with fresh fruit.

Make hash with leftover meat by adding chopped cooked potato (twice the amount of chopped meat), chopped onion, salt and pepper.

The ice cube section of the refrigerator is not cold enough to freeze meat or keep it frozen for more than three or four days.

When you are preparing a clam (from canned clams) for spaghetti, be sure to simmer (not boil) the clams so they won't toughen.

Refreshing: Pour orange juice over ice cubes in tall glasses and fill with ginger ale.

Wildly enthusiastic. Bright and eager to learn! Full of opinions! That's the American co-ed at an age when everything's new and exciting.

Her conversation's about boys, Sputniks, delinquency, labor, boys, hairdos, clothes, Russia, boys, democracy, the national debt, boys.

It comes back to the same thing. The most prudent of students wants to be pretty and popular. Who can blame her? If she makes a study of the subject, she'll find it's not so difficult to make the grade with the big men on campus.

It calls for personality—an interest in what those all-important boys have to say, a sense of humor, a reputation for being a good sport and a smart girl but not a know-it-all.

Beauty figures importantly. Every young man wants his date to look attractive, and how easy it is if she's mastered make-up techniques! If she hasn't, it's wise to invest part of that allowance in a beauty course that will teach how to apply cosmetics to minimize bad features, play up good ones.

Cleanliness counts. A smart co-ed always looks spic and span. Hair's prettily arranged.

Fashion plays a part but a girl can make little money do big things if she's a good shopper.

Separates offer a budget way to dress attractively for campus days and big date occasions.

Well-chosen accessories are a trick to learn, too. They change the basic outfit's appearance.

Broccoli Gives 70 Per Cent Of Adult Required Vitamin A

By ALICE DENLOFF

Broccoli, that highly-developed member of the cabbage family, is one of our best protective foods. A half-cup of this green vegetable provides 70 per cent of the entire daily adult requirement of vitamin A, in addition to other important elements.

Broccoli is good whether it is served plain with all sorts of imaginative sauces or as part of a casserole.

Plain Broccoli with Browned Mushroom Sauce is a real treat.

To serve 6, wash and trim 1 large bunch fresh broccoli (about 2 lbs. as purchased.) Cut large stalks into halves or quarters.

Cook uncovered in a saucepan containing 1 in. boiling water and ½ tsp. salt for 5 min. Cover and continue cooking until broccoli is just crisp-tender, about 15 min.

Meantime, lightly brown 3 tsp. butter in a skillet. Add ½ c. chopped fresh mushrooms and saute quickly until just tender. Add 1½ tsp. fresh lemon juice and ¼ tsp. black pepper. Drain broccoli.

Arrange on warm serving dish and top with mushroom sauce.

Sweet potatoes are plentiful now, too. Serve them frequently for their vital health properties as well as their fine flavor.

For example, try these Sweet Potato Patties.

To serve 8, combine 3 c. mashed sweet potatoes, 3 tsp. butter, tsp. salt, ½ tsp. black pepper and 2 tsp. sugar. Shape into 8 patties. Roll in 1 c. crushed cornflakes.

Bake on buttered cookie sheet in a preheated, moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 min. or until brown. Here is a fluffy, delicate Cranberry Custard that goes well after a hearty meal.

To serve 6-8, cook ½ c. sugar, 2 tsp. cornstarch, 2 tsp. water and ¼ c. whole fresh cranberries together in a saucepan over low heat until very thick, about 15 min.

Gradually stir in 4 egg yolks. Cool.

Just before serving, add ¼ tsp. salt to 4 egg whites and beat until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in ½ c. sugar and ½ tsp. grated orange rind. Fold into the custard mixture. Serve in sherbet glasses. Top with a dab of whipped cream and a sprig of mint.

Middletown, Glenford Hold No. 1 Ratings

Cleveland East Tech Second in Class AA, Deshler in Class A

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middletown and Glenford are runaway leaders today after 44 sports editors rated Ohio's high school basketball teams in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The mighty Middies, winners of 14 straight this season and 66 since they last tasted defeat, picked up 33 first place votes to poll 425 points to second-place Cleveland East Tech's 307 in Class AA.

Glenford's Golden Horde, with a 17-game winning streak, moved around once-beaten Deshler into the top spot in Class A, and unbeaten Bethel zoomed from ninth to second among the smaller schools.

The Glenford "Horde" piled up 206 poll points to Bethel's 168. Elyria, with a 12-0 record, is the lone newcomer in the Class AA elite, replacing Youngstown South, which fell before Youngstown Chaney by 57-54.

Boston Twp. and Minster eased into the last two spots in the Class A top 10. Lake of Wood County and Columbiana's Clippers dropped out.

Middletown's Jerry Lucas, who holds all the Ohio state tournament scoring records, picked up 66 points over the weekend as the champions of the last two years swamped Taylor, 57-58, and Cincinnati Central, 96-51. That gave him 422 for 14 games, an average of just over 30. For his 66-game all-victory career he has 2,082 points, an average of 31.5.

Hamilton's Big Blue, second in the ratings until dumped by Middletown a bit over a week ago, stayed in fourth place despite a squeaky 60-59 win over Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

Toledo Macomber, which had the Middies wrapped up with less than five seconds to go in last year's state meet, was victimized again by Toledo Scott's unbeaten team, 51-40. Both of Macomber's losses have been to sixth-ranked Scott, but Macomber stayed in the top 10 by holding ninth place.

From Around and About: Cleveland East Tech's Scarabs, coached by John Broski, have outscored 13 straight victims by an average of 86 to 49. Fred Stone of the Scarabs defeated Cleveland John Hay single-handed Friday night. He scored 49 points in the 95-35 romp.

New Boston, with a 59-3 record over the last three years, including tournament play, has compiled a 14-1 season despite the loss of all its 1956-57 starters.

Bridgeport, the No. 1 double-A threat along the eastern Ohio River front, has won 10 in a row, with John Havlicek averaging 32.7. In two of the last four starts, against St. Clairsville and East Liverpool, the Bridgeport zone defense limited the foe to a single field goal in the fourth quarter.

Stone Creek of Tuscarawas County ran up 92 points against Port Washington. The oddity was that only two points came on free throws, the boys converting two of their three tries.

Eighth-place Salem's 72-67 win over Wellsview Friday was Coach Johnny Cabas' 100th at the Quaker helm. His eight-year record reads 100-46. Four of his players are averaging in double figures, and he may need all of them as his Quakers bang into Youngstown South tonight.

Roger Kovalchik, Smithfield's 6-1 senior, scored 44 for the second time this season as Yorkville was beaten 79-73. Kovalchik is an outstanding quarterback, too.

Springfield Twp. of Jefferson County, which won 23 in a row last year before bowing in the district meet, saw another 11-game streak halted, 53-43, by Dillonvale. Fredricktown, after winning 12 in a row, dropped consecutive contests to Class AA Utica and Crestline. The latter, which dropped its opener, has a 13-game winning spurge under way.

Elyria's Pioneers, who moved into the top 10 this week with a 12-0 record, set a new school record Friday. They smothered Fremont Ross, 96-31.

Here is how Ohio's sports editors rated the teams in both Class AA and Class A. Shown are first place votes in parentheses along with total poll points and win-loss records of the leaders:

Ohio State Trips Purdue, Takes Second in Big Ten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio State took over second place and Northwestern took on added confidence Monday night after both universities chalked up Big Ten basketball victories.

The Buckeyes edged Purdue, 75-73, and Northwestern dropped Minnesota into the Western Conference cellar with an 85-76 triumph.

Superior rebounding paved the way for Ohio State's win while Northwestern's gang-shooting tactics brought about the Gopher doom.

Ohio State picked off 56 rebounds to 29 by Purdue and had to ward off a final minute rally by the Boilermakers. Purdue scored seven points in the last 28 seconds but couldn't overcome the big Buckeye lead.

Jim Laughlin fired in 24 points for Ohio State, and Frank Howard added 19 while grabbing 23 rebounds. Willie Merriweather of Purdue won scoring honors with 29 points and scored 5 of them in the final seconds.

"Their rebounding killed us," lamented Purdue Coach Ray Eddy. "I thought we had a chance if we could win here tonight. Anyway, the boys never gave up."

The loss was Purdue's third in five games and dropped the Boilermakers into eighth place. Buckeye Coach Floyd Stahl also conceded that his team's margin resulted from rebounds and the free throw line. Outscored 28-25 from the field, Ohio State connected on 25 of 42 free throws while Purdue made 17 of 31.

Northwestern had little difficulty with Minnesota after overcoming a 14-6 Gopher lead piled up in the early minutes. The Wildcats led 47-40 at halftime and except when Minnesota cut the lead to two points midway in the second half, Coach Bill Rohr's boys were always in command.

Five Wildcats scored in double figures with Phil Warren and Willie Jones scoring 24 and 23 points, respectively. The triumph was Northwestern's third in six games and hoisted the 'Cats into a three-way tie for fifth place with Iowa and Wisconsin.

"Northwestern is still very much in the Big Ten race," said Rohr. "In fact, we were never out of it. Michigan State is the team to beat and we don't have to play them anymore."

Two of Northwestern's three losses came at the hands of Michigan State. Minnesota Coach Ozzie Cowles said his team is "too young and undermanned and will have to fight to keep out of the Big Ten cellar."

Michigan, the league leader with a 3-1 record, returns to action in one of four conference games Saturday. The Wolverines host Purdue in a regionally televised contest. Other games find Northwestern at Illinois, Ohio State at Iowa and Minnesota at Michigan State. Indiana is at DePaul in a non-conference affair.

West Virginia Finally Loses

Unranked Duke Trips Nation's No. 1 Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Time finally ran out on West Virginia's Cinderellas in college basketball.

Unranked Duke, only a so-so 7-5 for the season, put the ax to West Virginia's 14-game unbeaten streak with a 72-68 upset Monday night. It was the No. 1 shocker on a night of surprises.

The Mountaineers are No. 1 in today's Associated Press poll, based on games through last Saturday.

Longshot Houston clipped sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, which had won 12 straight, 70-64, and ambitious Georgia Tech walloped eighth-ranked Kentucky 71-52.

That leaves Temple, No. 11 at 13-2, with the top winning streak (12) and untested St. John's of Brooklyn, ranked 13th, the only unbeaten (9-0) in major play.

West Virginia had the edge from the field, hitting 27 field goals to Duke's 26. But the Blue Devils, an Atlantic Coast Conference entry, connected on 20 of 25 free throws while West Virginia was blowing 8 of 22.

Duke's 6-5 Paul Schmidt bird-dogged 6-10 Lloyd Sharrar, the big man of the Southern Conference champs. Sharrar snared only 14 rebounds and scored but nine points.

Schmidt scored only 12 points, but there was no need for more. All but two of Duke's seven players scored — and those five hit double figures. Jim Newcome was high with 20.

Houston, now 6-8 handed Oklahoma State its first defeat since a season-opening setback by Kansas, with a tight zone defense and a brilliant two-man performance from Russ Boone and Ed Erickson. They scored 40 points between them (23 by Boone), and split 24 rebounds.

Georgia Tech, winning six of its last seven, gained a share of the Southeastern Conference lead with Kentucky by smearing the Wildcats' unbeaten SEC record. Little guys Terry Randall, with 26, and Bud Blemker, with 21, led the Engineers, who trailed by two at the half.

Mountaineers Still Tagged As Top Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
West Virginia's Mountaineers no longer are unbeaten, but they're still the top-heavy choice in today's Associated Press college basketball poll — based on games through Saturday.

Duke's stunning 72-68 upset ended West Virginia's winning streak at 14 Monday night, but came too late to be reflected in the balloting by the nation's sportswriters.

There were two other upsets Monday night. Sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, which had climbed a notch by running its winning streak to 12, was beaten 70-64 by Houston.

The Mountaineers totaled 1,008 points in the poll to 834 for runner-up Kansas. They were the first pick on 73 of 110 ballots.

Cincinnati, led by the nation's top scorer, Oscar Robertson, continued to advance, jumping past Kansas State into third place by a narrow margin.

Middletown, Glenford Hold No. 1 Ratings

Cleveland East Tech Second in Class AA, Deshler in Class A

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middletown and Glenford are runaway leaders today after 44 sports editors rated Ohio's high school basketball teams in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The mighty Middles, winners of 14 straight this season and 66 since they last tasted defeat, picked up 33 first place votes to poll 425 points to second-place Cleveland East Tech's 307 in Class AA.

Glenford's Golden Horde, with a 17-game winning streak, moved around once-beaten Deshler into the top spot in Class A, and unbeaten Bethel zoomed from ninth to second among the smaller schools.

The Glenford "Horde" piled up 206 poll points to Bethel's 168. Elyria, with a 12-0 record, is the lone newcomer in the Class AA elite, replacing Youngstown South, which fell before Youngstown Chaney by 57-54.

Boston Twp. and Minster eased into the last two spots in the Class A top 10. Lake of Wood County and Columbiana's Clippers dropped out.

Middletown's Jerry Lucas, who holds all the Ohio state tournament scoring records, picked up 66 points over the weekend as the champions of the last two years swamped Taylor, 87-58, and Cincinnati Central, 96-51. That gave him 422 for 14 games, an average of just over 30. For his 66-game all-victory career he has 2,082 points, an average of 31.5.

Hamilton's Big Blue, second in the ratings until dumped by Middletown a bit over a week ago, stayed in fourth place despite a squeaky 60-59 win over Cincinnati Roger Bacon.

Toledo Macomber, which had the Middles wrapped up with less than five seconds to go in last year's state meet, was victimized again by Toledo Scott's unbeaten team, 51-40. Both of Macomber's losses have been to sixth-ranked Scott, but Macomber stayed in the top 10 by holding ninth place.

From Around and About: Cleveland East Tech's Scarabs, coached by John Broski, have outscored 13 straight victims by an average of 86 to 49. Fred Stone of the Scarabs defeated Cleveland John Hay single-handed Friday night. He scored 49 points in the 95-35 romp.

New Boston, with a 59-3 record over the last three years, including tournament play, has compiled a 14-1 season despite the loss of all its 1956-57 starters.

Bridgeport, the No. 1 double-A threat along the eastern Ohio River front, has won 10 in a row, with John Havlicek averaging 32.7. In two of the last four starts, against St. Clairsville and East Liverpool, the Bridgeport zone defense limited the foe to a single field goal in the fourth quarter.

Stone Creek of Tuscarawas County ran up 92 points against Port Washington. The oddity was that only two points came on free throws, the boys converting two of their three tries.

Eighth-place Salem's 72-67 win over Wellsview Friday was Coach Johnny Cabas' 100th at the Quaker helm. His eight-year record reads 100-46. Four of his players are averaging in double figures, and he may need all of them as his Quakers bang into Youngstown South tonight.

Roger Kovalchik, Smithfield's 6-1 senior, scored 44 for the second time this season as Yorkville was beaten 79-73. Kovalchik is an outstanding quarterback, too.

Springfield Twp. of Jefferson County, which won 23 in a row last year before bowing in the district meet, saw another 11-game streak halted, 53-43, by Dillonvale. Fredericktown, after winning 12 in a row, dropped consecutive contests to Class AA Utica and Crestline. The latter, which dropped its opener, has a 13-game winning spurge under way.

Elyria's Pioneers, who moved into the top 10 this week with a 12-0 record, set a new school record Friday. They smothered Fremont Ross, 96-31.

Here is how Ohio's sports editors rated the top teams in both Class AA and Class A. Shown are first place votes in parentheses along with total poll points and win-loss records of the leaders:

Ohio State Trips Purdue, Takes Second in Big Ten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State took over second place and Northwestern took on added confidence Monday night after both universities chalked up Big Ten basketball victories.

The Buckeyes edged Purdue, 75-73, and Northwestern dropped Minnesota into the Western Conference cellar with an 85-76 triumph.

Superior rebounding paved the way for Ohio State's win while Northwestern's gang-shooting tactics brought about the Gopher doom.

Pro Gridders Continuing Draft Call

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The four-day National Football League annual winter meeting opened here today with the day-long player draft.

Commissioner Bert Bell banged the gavel for the 10-hour job of player selections at midmorning. Coaches, general managers and owners from each of the 12 pro clubs were on hand for the task.

The first four rounds of the annual 30-round draft were held Dec. 1. That left 26 rounds involving 312 players to be run through today. Commissioner Bell indicated there was a slim possibility the owners might decide to reduce the draft by five rounds.

The reason for this is that the NFL has a contract limit of 60 players with a regular season maximum of 35 men. Thus even if a team signed all its draftees it would have 65 players, five over the contract maximum. It takes a unanimous vote to make the change.

The teams will select in the order of their finish in the 1957 standings from last to first with the championship club last.

Sarazen Rallies To Cop Tourney

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—"The older you get, the nicer they feel." Gene Sarazen was talking after a brilliant last round rally enabled him to capture his second PGA Seniors' golf championship Monday with a 73-71-74-70—288 total.

When Sarazen teed off he was in a tie for fourth place, five strokes behind Mortie Dutra of Calexico, Calif., who had led all the way. And he was three shots behind Ed Burke of New Haven, Conn., and two behind Charles Sheppard of West Newton, Mass.

But while Sarazen was firing his two-under-par 70, Sheppard was taking a 75 for 291, Burke a 78 for 293 and Dutra an 82 for 295.

Oregon State Coach Eyeing Iowa Position

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Clay Stapleton, Oregon State College assistant football coach, said today he plans to visit the Iowa State campus soon to talk about the head coaching job there.

Stapleton said he had been in communication with officials at Iowa State. The job was vacated recently by Jim Myers, who takes over at Texas A & M.

Ohio State picked off 56 rebounds to 29 by Purdue and had to ward off a final minute rally by the Boilermakers. Purdue scored seven points in the last 28 seconds but couldn't overcome the big Buckeye lead.

Jim Laughlin fired in 24 points for Ohio State, and Frank Howard added 19 while grabbing 23 rebounds. Willie Merrifield of Purdue won scoring honors with 29 points and scored 5 of them in the final seconds.

"Their rebounding killed us," lamented Purdue Coach Ray Eddy. "I thought we had a chance if we could win here tonight. Any way, the boys never gave up."

The loss was Purdue's third in five games and dropped the Boilermakers into eighth place. Buckeye Coach Floyd Stahl also conceded that his team's margin resulted from rebounds and the free throw line. Outscored 28-25 from the field, Ohio State connected on 25 of 42 free throws while Purdue made 17 of 31.

Northwestern had little difficulty with Minnesota after overcoming a 14-6 Gopher lead piled up in the early minutes. The Wildcats led 47-40 at halftime and except when Minnesota cut the lead to two points midway in the second half, Coach Bill Rohr's boys were always in command.

Five Wildcats scored in double figures with Phil Warren and Willie Jones scoring 24 and 23 points, respectively. The triumph was Northwestern's third in six games and hoisted the 'Cats into a three-way tie for fifth place with Iowa and Wisconsin.

"Northwestern is still very much in the Big Ten race," said Rohr. "In fact, we were never out of it. Michigan State is the team to beat and we don't have to play them anymore."

Two of Northwestern's three losses came at the hands of Michigan State. Minnesota Coach Ozzie Cowles said his team is "too young and undermanned and will have to fight to keep out of the Big Ten cellar."

Michigan, the league leader with a 3-1 record, returns to action in one of four conference games Saturday. The Wolverines host Purdue in a regionally televised contest. Other games find Northwestern at Illinois, Ohio State at Iowa and Minnesota at Michigan State. Indiana is at DePaul in a non-conference affair.

'Disposable' Farm Buildings Envisioned

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—"Disposable" farm buildings made of plastic may become commonplace within a few years, says Lee McConnell, representative of an electrical firm.

He told an audience of farmers at Michigan State University that the farmstead of the future may be little more than a few paved lots surrounded by plastic balloons held up by air pressure.

The same thing may happen to the farm home, he said, citing a full-sized dwelling recently demonstrated by architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

West Virginia Finally Loses

Unranked Duke Trips Nation's No. 1 Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Time finally ran out on West Virginia's Cinderellas in college basketball.

Unranked Duke, only a so-so 7-5 for the season, put the ax to West Virginia's 14-game unbeaten streak with a 72-68 upset Monday night. It was the No. 1 shocker on a night of surprises.

The Mountaineers are No. 1 in today's Associated Press poll, based on games through last Saturday.

Longshot Houston clipped sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, which had won 12 straight, 70-64, and ambitious Georgia Tech walloped eighth-ranked Kentucky 71-52.

That leaves Temple, No. 11 at 13-2, with the top winning streak (12) and untested St. John's of Brooklyn, ranked 13th, the only unbeaten (9-0) in major play.

West Virginia had the edge from the field, hitting 27 field goals to Duke's 26. But the Blue Devils, an Atlantic Coast Conference entry, connected on 20 of 25 free throws while West Virginia was blowing 8 of 22.

Duke's 6-5 Paul Schmidt bird-dogged 6-10 Lloyd Sharrar, the big man of the Southern Conference champs. Sharrar snared only 14 rebounds and scored but nine points.

Schmidt scored only 12 points, but there was no need for more. All but two of Duke's seven players scored — and those five hit double figures. Jim Newcome was high with 20.

Houston, now 6-8 handed Oklahoma State its first defeat since a season-opening setback by Kansas, with a tight zone defense and a brilliant two-man performance from Russ Boone and Ed Erickson. They scored 40 points between them (23 by Boone), and split 24 rebounds.

Georgia Tech, winning six of its last seven, gained a share of the Southeastern Conference lead with Kentucky by smearing the Wildcats' unbeaten SEC record. Little guys Terry Randall, with 26, and Bud Blemker, with 21, led the Engineers, who trailed by two at the half.

Mountaineers Still Tagged As Top Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

West Virginia's Mountaineers no longer are unbeaten, but they're still the top-heavy choice in today's Associated Press college basketball poll — based on games through Saturday.

Duke's stunning 72-68 upset ended West Virginia's winning streak at 14 Monday night, but came too late to be reflected in the balloting by the nation's sportswriters.

There were two other upsets Monday night. Sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, which had climbed a notch by running its winning streak to 12, was beaten 70-64 by Houston.

The Mountaineers totaled 1,008 points in the poll to 834 for runner-up Kansas. They were the first pick on 73 of 110 ballots.

Cincinnati, led by the nation's top scorer, Oscar Robertson, continued to advance, jumping past Kansas State to third place by a narrow margin.

The rest of the top 10 lists San Francisco, Oklahoma State, North Carolina, Kentucky, Maryland and North Carolina State.

N.C. State rejoined the top 10, off its 57-48 victory over Maryland last week, while Bradley slipped to 12th after losing to Portland.

Hoosier Hotshot Keeps Big Ten Point Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Indiana scoring ace Archie Dees, although idle all week because of examinations, remained far out in front in the Big Ten basketball scoring race.

Dees is averaging 25.5 points with 306 points in 12 games. His nearest rival is Frank Howard of Ohio State who has 279 points in 14 games for a 19.9 average.

Dave Gunther of Iowa moved into third place with 241 points in 13 games and an 18.7 average.

Yardley Still On Top Of Pro Scoring Race

NEW YORK (AP)—George Yardley of the Detroit Pistons' refuses to budge from his top spot in the National Basketball Assn. scoring race, figures released by NBA headquarters showed today.

But if he is to be moved, then it looks like Dolph Schayes of Syracuse will do it on his foul shooting ability. Yardley leads Schayes average wise 27.4-25.4, and in total points, 1,313 to 1,221.

Carroll Drops Stoutsville In 72-57 Tilt

The Stoutsville Indians dropped their seventh game of the year Friday night to Carroll, 72-57. The Indians are 3-4 in league play.

Stoutsville led, 48-47, at the three quarter mark but fell apart in the fourth period as Carroll outscored its guests 25-9 to run away with the win. Overall the teams were matched evenly, but recent illness held two Stoutsville youths from playing their usual brand of ball.

At the end of the first quarter Carroll led, 16-14. In the second period Carroll's Norris got hot and tallied five straight buckets from in front of the key slot. The Indians altered their defense in the third quarter and Carroll's Kull denied the Indian armor from the side with a dangerous jump shot.

For the first time in conservation history Ohio's three largest sportsmen's organizations met with state and national wildlife officials to discuss a program of cooperation on a national issue.

Representatives of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, the Izaak Walton League and the Ohio Conservation Congress met in Columbus Sunday, January 12, with state and national wildlife officials to consider means of utilizing the soil bank program and improve conditions for Ohio fish and game.

Present at the meeting were Cecil Rhoad, Jack Chaney and Benjamin Zeiter, all of Tiffin, representing the Izaak Walton League; Gene Murdock and Fred Aten, both of Ravenna representing the Ohio Conservation Congress; and Carl Knirk, Marion, and Ted Lee, Columbus, representing the League of Ohio Sportsmen. Bud Morgan of the National Wildlife Federation and Hayden Olds, Chief of the Division of Wildlife, and his staff presented the details of the program. Emphasis was placed on the Conservation Reserve plan of the Soil Bank and its value to soil, water, forests and wildlife.

Details of each club's participation in the program will be worked out by the officials of each organization.

OCCUPANTS of Lake Hope State Park housekeeping cabins for the coming summer will be decided at Zaleski at 10 a. m. February 3, when a public drawing is conducted by the Ohio Division of Parks. Park manager at Lake Hope John McDaniels reports there is still time for persons interested in obtaining housekeeping accommodations to place their names for the drawing.

McDaniels added that in order to qualify for the drawing letter requests for accommodations will have to be at the Zaleski, Ohio post office no later than February 1. Vacation accommodations have been so much in demand at Lake Hope for the last few years that the Parks Division has had to conduct an annual drawing to determine whose applications for housekeeping cabins are filled.

Last year, according to the park manager, 250 applicants received vacation accommodations out of a total 370 who applied. The first names pulled in the drawing are awarded first choice of vacation period preferred. Others have to settle for a second or third preference of dates when they can get accommodations at scenic Lake Hope in the heart of 18,000-acre Zaleski State Forest.

Lake Hope housekeeping cabins are equipped with cooking facilities. They are modernly furnished and situated in wooded surroundings near other park facilities. Rental rates range from $50 to $60 per week for six persons or less.

Twenty-three sleeping cabins at Lake Hope are still rented on a first requested first reserved basis. These cabins are similar to the housekeeping cabins but lack cooking facilities. Occupants eat at the Dining Lodge where meals are served regularly during the park season beginning May 1 and ending November 1.

All requests for Lake Hope cabins are handled at the park area and any inquiries concerning accommodations should be sent to: Reservation, Lake Hope State Park, Zaleski, Ohio.

STUDIES made by the Lands and Soil Division of the Department of Natural Resources, tend to prove that the Paulding and Hoytville soils found in Paulding County would have to lose about 15 per cent more moisture before it would be dry enough to till.

The studies were made under the direction of H. H. Morse, State Soil Scientist, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, and Francis J. Baker, Water Survey Supervisor, Division of Lands and Soil.

According to Ken Dotson, chief of the division of lands and soil, samples of all the major soils were taken during the Paulding County soil survey. These samples were analyzed in the Soil Laboratories at Ohio State University, under the supervision of Professors George Taylor and Nicholas Holo-waychuk. These analyses provided the data for this study.

Even after the drains had removed as much water as possible from Paulding Clay it was still too wet to plow. Hoytville soils, after drainage, need to lose up to 10 per cent more moisture before they can be safely cultivated.

It was noted by Baker that when the surface two inches of Paulding Clay was dry enough to plow, the remainder of the plow-layer was too wet. Also, because of the clots that were formed when land was plowed at this moisture content, a satisfactory seedbed was very difficult to prepare.

A comparable situation exists on Hoytville soils, but not as severe as it is on Paulding Clay. When either of these two soils are plowed too wet the soil below the plowlayer is packed resulting in impeded drainage and root penetration.

Baker said that fall plowing is preferable to spring plowing in Paulding soils as that land plowed in the fall does not dry out as fast as that which is spring plowed. He also noted that freezing and thawing, and wetting and drying of the fall plowed lands breaks up clods resulting in fewer tillage operations necessary to preparing a suitable seedbed. This also reduces cost of preparing the seed bed.

North Carolina State set a new school rushing record in football last season as coach of Army's basketball team.

Robertson Pacing All Cage Scorers

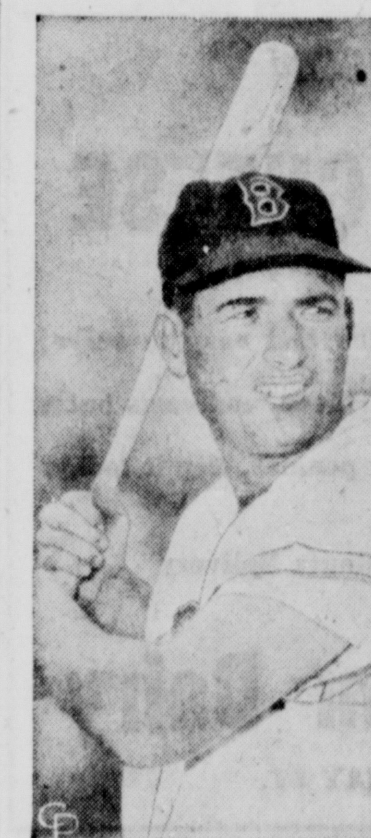

NEW YORK—A 41-point effort Monday night, giving him a total of 140 in the last four games, boosted Alabama's Jack Kubiszyn into seventh place in the major college individual basketball scoring standings. Three weeks ago he was 19th.

Kubiszyn was the big gun in Alabama's 105-44 victory over Howard of Alabama Monday night.

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State turned in a 35-point job in a 75-61 decision over Southeastern of Louisiana and moved from seventh to fifth place.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati remained on top with a 32.8 average in 15 games followed by Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas at 32.4 in 12.

Lou Jankowski of the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League and Len (Red) Kelly of Detroit in the National Hockey League are brother-in-laws. Jankowski is married to Kelly's sister.

THAT'S ALL—After 15 years in the big leagues, George Kell of the Baltimore Orioles has called it quits. Kell said he would devote his time to his farm at Swifton, Ark., and to his business. (International)

THE GREAT OUTDOORS By Blake

Ohio College Cagers Split Win Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio college basketball teams split even in four tilts Monday night with out-of-state opponents.

Ohio State headed the list with a wild 75-73 victory over Purdue in Columbus. The victory moved the Buckeyes into undisputed second place in the Big Ten with a 4-2 conference mark. They are 5-9 over-all.

The Boilermakers nearly edged the Bucks, exploding with seven points in the last 28 seconds.

Purdue's Willie Merriweather led scoring with 29 points. OSU's Jim Laughlin had 24. Frank Howard picked off 23 rebounds for the victors.

In the other Ohio victory, Xavier, on the crest of Joe Viviano's 10 straight points in the closing minutes, dropped LaSalle 76-65 in Cincinnati.

Viviano had 22 points and 19 rebounds to lead in both departments. It was the Musketeers' 12th victory in 15 games. LaSalle is 10-5.

Free throws helped Gannon College of Erie, Pa., defeat Youngstown, 86-77. Gannon made 26 of 36 charity tosses while the Penguins made 9 of 16.

The loss was Youngstown's fifth in 16 games. Gannon is now 6-5.

In the only other action, Marquette sent Toledo to its seventh defeat in 12 games, 58-55.

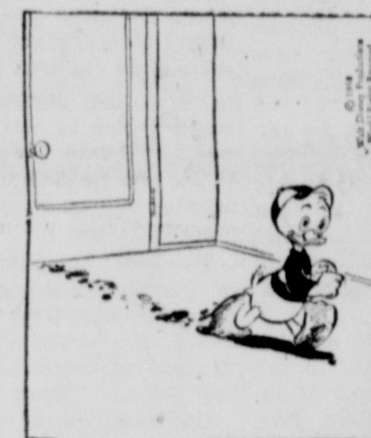

Lakers Still Roll Over Play Dead for Knicks

DETROIT (AP)—Minneapolis and New York have little in common geographically, but when it comes to professional basketball the Minneapolis Lakers seem to be the New York Knickerbockers' best friend.

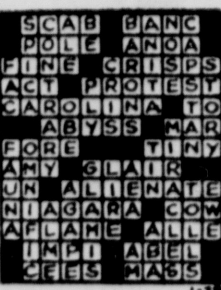

The Knicks beat the Lakers for the third straight time 113-102 in the opener of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader here Monday night. The hometown Pistons defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 115-93 in the nightcap.

For the first time in conservation history Ohio's three largest sportsmen's organizations met with state and national wildlife officials to discuss a program of cooperation on a national issue.

Representatives of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, the Izaak Walton League and the Ohio Conservation Congress met in Columbus Sunday, January 12, with state and national wildlife officials to consider means of utilizing the soil bank program and improve conditions for Ohio fish and game.

Present at the meeting were Cecil Rhoad, Jack Chaney and Benjamin Zeiter, all of Tiffin, representing the Izaak Walton League; Gene Murdock and Fred Aten, both of Ravenna representing the Ohio Conservation Congress; and Carl Knirk, Marion, and Ted Lee, Columbus, representing the League of Ohio Sportsmen. Bud Morgan of the National Wildlife Federation and Hayden Olds, Chief of the Division of Wildlife, and his staff presented the details of the program. Emphasis was placed on the Conservation Reserve plan of the Soil Bank and its value to soil, water, forests and wildlife.

Details of each club's participation in the program will be worked out by the officials of each organization.

OCCUPANTS of Lake Hope State Park housekeeping cabins for the coming summer will be decided at Zaleski at 10 a. m. February 3, when a public drawing is conducted by the Ohio Division of Parks. Park manager at Lake Hope John McDaniels reports there is still time for persons interested in obtaining housekeeping accommodations to place their names for the drawing.

McDaniels added that in order to qualify for the drawing letter requests for accommodations will have to be at the Zaleski, Ohio post office no later than February 1. Vacation accommodations have been so much in demand at Lake Hope for the last few years that the Parks Division has had to conduct an annual drawing to determine whose applications for housekeeping cabins are filled.

Last year, according to the park manager, 250 applicants received vacation accommodations out of a total 370 who applied. THE GREAT OUTDOORS By Blake

Choice of Deductions Given; Try Both Plans, Pick Best

Tue AD, No. 13: Choice of Editor's Note: Seventh in an eight-part series on your income tax, this article tells how to get the greatest possible mileage from deductions. Keep it handy for use when you prepare your return.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

In the fifth article of this series we discussed the possible exclusion of "sick pay" from your gross income. In the sixth article we discussed job-connected expenses that may be deducted.

With those figures in hand, you can now determine whether you will be better off to take the standard 10 per cent deduction allowed for certain personal expenses, or whether you should itemize them on page 2 of form 1040. (You can't itemize your deductions on form 1040A, but you are automatically given credit for the standard 10 per cent off.)

The basic figure you have to work with is your "adjusted gross income," which means your total taxable income minus your "sick pay" and job-connected expenses.

On line 5 of the first page of the form 1040 you list your gross wages and compensations. On line 6 (a) you can list your business expenses and on line 6 (b) your sick pay exclusion. Add the figures on lines 6 (a) and 6(b), and subtract the total from line 5.

The remainder is your adjusted gross income if you have no income from other sources such as interest, dividends, etc. If you list no sick pay exclusion or job-connected expenses, the amount on line 5 would be your adjusted gross income.

THE STANDARD deduction allowed to all is 10 per cent of this adjusted gross income, but with certain dollar limits. If you are single, the standard deduction can't total more than $1,000. The limit is also $1,000 if you are married and file a joint return. If husband and wife file separate returns, the limit they may claim under the standard deduction is $500 each.

If you itemize your deductions, you can deduct both the 10 per cent and the dollar limits. Thus it may be to your advantage to work it out both ways and see whether you would save money by itemizing.

Husbands and wives filing separate returns should remember that if one takes the standard deduction, the other must do the same. Likewise, if one itemizes his or her deductions, so must the other.

Pages 8, 9 and 10 of the instruction booklet that comes with form 1040 go into great detail on the itemized deductions you may claim.

Some of the more important categories are:

CONTRIBUTIONS — This, includes gifts to religious, charitable, educational, scientific or literary groups. However, you can't deduct gifts to friends or relatives, political candidates or organizations, social clubs, labor unions, chambers of commerce or propaganda organizations. Generally, these contributions may not exceed 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income. However, you may deduct up to 30 per cent if one-third of what you claim is for contributions to churches and tax-exempt hospitals and educational institutions.

INTEREST — This includes interest on your home mortgage or on a bank loan or other personal debt. The "service charge" or "carrying charge" on many installment purchases are not strictly interest but you can still deduct a part of this. Just add up the balance still due at the end of every month and divide the total by 12 to find the average unpaid balance. You may then deduct 6 per cent of that figure as interest.

MEDICAL AND DENTAL EXPENSES — This one can be a bit tricky, but it may be a means of saving you considerable money. First, find 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income. You can include in medical expenses the cost of drugs and medicine that exceeds that amount. Next, find 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. You can deduct medical expenses that exceed that amount.

Persons 65 or older may ignore the 3 per cent rule on their own medical bills, but not the 1 per cent limitation on drugs and medicines. However, persons of any age whose medical bills during the year have been extremely high should refer to page 10 of the instruction booklet for the dollar limitations that the law places on medical deductions. These limitations start at $2,500.

TAXES — In general you can de-

15th Defendant Named In Probe of Swindle

YOUNGSTOWN (AP) — Two more persons will be charged today with aiding and abetting an alleged $200,000 insurance swindle.

The new warrants bring the number of persons charged in the case to 15, including the man described as the mastermind of the operation — missing city councilman John J. Tobin Jr., 29.

Tobin, an auditor for the American Associated Insurance Co., processed faked claims on automobile accidents, police said. He was charged with embezzlement.

duct most of the non-federal taxes you paid during 1957. This would include state, county or city retail sales taxes, personal property taxes, real estate taxes, state or city income taxes, state gasoline taxes, poll taxes, auto license fees, etc. However, you can't deduct federal excise taxes on your personal expenditures, water taxes, hunting licenses, dog licenses, federal social security payments, auto inspection fees or taxes paid by you for another person.

CASUALTY LOSSES AND THEFTS — The law allows you to deduct any loss not covered by insurance, from the destruction of your property in a fire, storm, automobile accident, shipwreck, hurricane, flood or other natural forces. You can deduct your losses from theft in the year of discovery, but not losses from misplacing articles of value. Damage to your car by collision or other accident can be deducted if due merely to faulty driving, but not if due to your willful act or negligence.

CARE OF CHILDREN AND DISABLED DEPENDENTS — A deduction of up to $600 may be claimed by employed women and men who are widowed, legally separated or divorced, for the care of certain dependents. The basic rules are that the care must be necessary to allow the taxpayer to work or seek work and that the dependent be under 12 or physically and mentally unable to care for himself.

A married woman can claim the deduction only if she files a joint return with her husband. Furthermore, the deduction must be reduced by the amount the combined adjusted gross income exceeds $4,500. Thus, if the combined adjusted gross income is $5,000, the deduction must be reduced by $500. And you do not get a flat deduction of $600 — only the amount you actually spent up to that figure. The child care payments cannot be made to a person whom you claim as a dependent.

MISCELLANEOUS — This is a catch-all category where you may be able to find some tax savings. It includes most of your job-connected expenses which you have not claimed on page 1 of the form 1040.

For instance, if you work for salary or wages and your job requires the use of small tools, this is the place to deduct the cost of those tools. The same applies to special uniforms which you have to buy yourself, safety equipment, etc.

You can deduct dues to a union or professional society, fees to employment agencies, the cost of entertaining customers — where your firm did not reimburse you — and alimony or separate maintenance payments.

YOU CANNOT deduct the cost of traveling to and from work, no matter how far and how expensive it might be. You can't deduct educational expenses. And you can't deduct the cost of entertaining friends.

After you have itemized all the personal deductions permitted by law, compare the total with 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income. Then either take the standard 10 per cent deduction, or itemize your deductions, whichever gives you the biggest saving.

The next, and last, article in this series will point up some common mistakes made by taxpayers in filing their returns, and some tips that may keep you out of trouble with the tax collector.

Dean of Diplomatic Corps Is Nicaraguan Ambassador

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new dean of Washington's diplomatic corps is handsome, broad-shouldered 49-year-old Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua, a baseball fan and father of eight.

Sevilla-Sacasa, with 15 years in Washington, succeeds as dean the recently retired Norwegian Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstjerne, who spent 40 years on Embassy Row.

The Nicaraguan ambassador has come to consider Washington his home town. His attractive brunette wife, Lillian, daughter of the late Anastasio Somoza, president of Nicaragua, and sister of his successor Luis Somoza, went to school here. She was a classmate and friend of Margaret Truman. All of their eight children were born here.

"It is the biggest honor that could come to me right here in my own home town," the ambassador told newsmen when he took over as titular head of the 83 diplomatic missions.

The older members of his brood of four boys and four girls, who range in age from 14 to about 3 years, are proud too. The younger ones, according to their father, are asking: "What do deans do?" One thing deans do is represent

Use of Prostitute As Lecturer Rapped

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Dr. Oliver William, president of Oklahoma State University, said bringing a prostitute to the campus to lecture to a criminology class was an error.

"I can assure the public it will not happen again," William said. "We must have academic freedom but information presented to the students must be carefully prepared."

Prof. Le C. May, in whose class of upperclassmen and graduate students the prostitute appeared, said he was going on with plans to bring the students first-hand knowledge of underworld characters.

Refugee Sought In Death Probe

Native of Poland Now in Canada

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Authorities are taking steps to return James I. Milak, 35-year-old Hungarian refugee, here from Montreal for questioning in the slaying last October of a newlywed couple in a Portage County ravine.

The slain woman, Mrs. Lillie Mikulak, 43, of Akron, had told police Milak threatened to "kill us all" if she married Steve Mikulak, a native of Poland and onetime Nazi prisoner.

Oct. 2, four days after the Mikulaks were married, they were reported missing. Their bodies were found by hunters Oct. 12 in a 40-foot ravine near here.

They had both been shot in the back and in the back of the head. Police theorized their killer made them kneel and put their hands in their coat pockets before shooting them.

Mrs. Mikulak, describing Milak as a rejected suitor, told police he had visited her home six days before her marriage.

When he found she was not at home, he became angry and slugged her 21-year-old son by a former marriage, Tomlin, with a pistol, according to an affidavit made out by Mrs. Mikulak Sept. 25. That affidavit was in connection with a charge of assault with intent to kill which she filed against Milak.

Prosecuting Attorney Robert E. Cook said he is sending papers to Montreal, where the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are holding Milak. The sheriff's office said Milak, who was picked up walking along a street in Montreal Saturday night, has waived extradition.

Milak had been missing since Oct. 2, when he borrowed an automobile from a friend in Akron. An Akron minister said Milak telephoned him from Tillsonburg, Ont., Oct. 4 and denied that he knew anything about the disappearance of the Mikulaks.

He was picked up in Montreal on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, a charge that had been placed against him by the FBI.

Modern Trend In Church Building Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. A. A. Dirlam, past president of the Church Architectural Guild of America told the 39th annual Ohio Pastors' Convention Monday that the modern form of religious buildings is not a fad, but that it indicates a trend.

He told almost 1,000 delegates to the four-day convention that the form of religious buildings reflects man's understanding of God.

Dr. Dirlam said Gothic cathedrals indicated man's desire to reach out from his earthbound environment. "Modern man has the boldness of the Gothic builders and dares to depart from tradition, seeking a form that will more perfectly express the scope of his spiritual aspiration," he added.

In another address, Dr. Walter M. "These have been imperatives of Christian unity all through the history of the ecumenical (worldwide in influence) movement," he asserted.

In a business session, the Ohio Council of Churches named Dr. C. Willard Fetter of Akron chairman of the 1959 convention.

Dr. Fetter is minister of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church in Akron.

Choice of Deductions Given; Try Both Plans, Pick Best

Tue AD, No. 13: Choice of Editor's Note: Seventh in an eight-part series on your income tax, this article tells how to get the greatest possible mileage from deductions. Keep it handy for use when you prepare your return.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

In the fifth article of this series we discussed the possible exclusion of "sick pay" from your gross income. In the sixth article we discussed job-connected expenses that may be deducted.

With those figures in hand, you can now determine whether you will be better off to take the standard 10 per cent deduction allowed for certain personal expenses, or whether you should itemize them on page 2 of form 1040. (You can't itemize your deductions on form 1040A, but you are automatically given credit for the standard 10 per cent off.)

The basic figure you have to work with is your "adjusted gross income," which means your total taxable income minus your "sick pay" and job-connected expenses.

On line 5 of the first page of the form 1040 you list your gross wages and compensations. On line 6 (a) you can list your business expenses and on line 6 (b) your sick pay exclusion. Add the figures on lines 6 (a) and 6 (b), and subtract the total from line 5.

The remainder is your adjusted gross income if you have no income from other sources such as interest, dividends, etc. If you list no sick pay exclusion or job-connected expenses, the amount on line 5 would be your adjusted gross income.

THE STANDARD deduction allowed to all is 10 per cent of this adjusted gross income, but with certain dollar limits. If you are single, the standard deduction can't total more than $1,000. The limit is also $1,000 if you are married and file a joint return. If husband and wife file separate returns, the limit they may claim under the standard deduction is $500 each.

If you itemize your deductions, you can forget both the 10 per cent and the dollar limits. Thus it may be to your advantage to work it out both ways and see whether you would save money by itemizing.

Husbands and wives filing separate returns should remember that if one takes the standard deduction, the other must do the same. Likewise, if one itemizes his or her deductions, so must the other.

Pages 8, 9 and 10 of the instruction booklet that comes with form 1040 go into great detail on the itemized deductions you may claim.

Some of the more important categories are:

CONTRIBUTIONS — This, includes gifts to religious, charitable, educational, scientific or literary groups. However, you can't deduct gifts to friends or relatives, political candidates or organizations, social clubs, labor unions, chambers of commerce or propaganda organizations. Generally, these contributions may not exceed 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income. However, you may deduct up to 30 per cent if one-third of what you claim is for contributions to churches and tax-exempt hospitals and educational institutions.

INTEREST — This includes interest on your home mortgage or on a bank loan or other personal debt. The "service charge" or "carrying charge" on many installment purchases are not strictly interest but you can still deduct a part of this. Just add up the balance still due at the end of every month and divide the total by 12 to find the average unpaid balance. You may then deduct 6 per cent of that figure as interest.

MEDICAL AND DENTAL EXPENSES — This one can be a bit tricky, but it may be a means of saving you considerable money. First, find 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income. You can include in medical expenses the cost of drugs and medicine that exceeds that amount. Next, find 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income. You can deduct medical expenses that exceed that amount.

Persons 65 or older may ignore the 3 per cent rule on their own medical bills, but not the 1 per cent limitation on drugs and medicines. However, persons of any age whose medical bills during the year have been extremely high should refer to page 10 of the instruction booklet for the dollar limitations that the law places on medical deductions. These limitations start at $2,500.

TAXES — In general you can de-

15th Defendant Named In Probe of Swindle

YOUNGSTOWN (AP) — Two more persons will be charged today with aiding and abetting an alleged $200,000 insurance swindle.

The new warrants bring the number of persons charged in the case to 15, including the man described as the mastermind of the operation — missing city councilman John J. Tobin Jr., 29.

Tobin, an adjutant for the American Associated Insurance Co., processed faked claims on automobile accidents, police said. He was charged with embezzlement.

duct most of the non-federal taxes you paid during 1957. This would include state, county or city retail sales taxes, personal property taxes, real estate taxes, state or city income taxes, state gasoline taxes, poll taxes, auto license fees, etc. However, you can't deduct federal excise taxes on your personal expenditures, water taxes, hunting licenses, dog licenses, federal social security payments, auto inspection fees or taxes paid by you for another person.

CASUALTY LOSSES AND THEFTS — The law allows you to deduct any loss not covered by insurance, from the destruction of your property in a fire, storm, automobile accident, shipwreck, hurricane, flood or other natural forces. You can deduct your losses from theft in the year of discovery, but not losses from misplacing articles of value. Damage to your car by collision or other accident can be deducted if due merely to faulty driving, but not if due to your willful act or negligence.

CARE OF CHILDREN AND DISABLED DEPENDENTS — A deduction of up to $600 may be claimed by employed women and men who are widowed, legally separated or divorced, for the care of certain dependents. The basic rules are that the care must be necessary to allow the taxpayer to work or seek work and that the dependent be under 12 or physically and mentally unable to care for himself.

A married woman can claim the deduction only if she files a joint return with her husband. Furthermore, the deduction must be reduced by the amount the combined adjusted gross income exceeds $4,500. Thus, if the combined adjusted gross income is $5,000, the deduction must be reduced by $500. And you do not get a flat deduction of $600 — only the amount you actually spent up to that figure. The child care payments cannot be made to a person whom you claim as a dependent.

MISCELLANEOUS — This is a catch-all category where you may be able to find some tax savings. It includes most of your job-connected expenses which you have not claimed on page 1 of the form 1040.

For instance, if you work for salary or wages and your job requires the use of small tools, this is the place to deduct the cost of those tools. The same applies to special uniforms which you have to buy yourself, safety equipment, etc.

You can deduct dues to a union or professional society, fees to employment agencies, the cost of entertaining customers — where your firm did not reimburse you — and alimony or separate maintenance payments.

YOU CANNOT deduct the cost of traveling to and from work, no matter how far and how expensive it might be. You can't deduct educational expenses. And you can't deduct the cost of entertaining friends.

After you have itemized all the personal deductions permitted by law, compare the total with 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income. Then either take the standard 10 per cent deduction, or itemize your deductions, whichever gives you the biggest saving.

The next, and last, article in this series will point up some common mistakes made by taxpayers in filing their returns, and some tips that may keep you out of trouble with the tax collector.

One thing deans do is represent the corps at all official and state functions here. Sometimes deans and their wives have to go to as many as four and five shindigs in a single evening.

The Sevilla-Sacasas live in a spacious, beautifully furnished English-type mansion in a quiet residential section of the city with handsomely landscaped grounds and a fine swimming pool — perfect for big-league entertaining.

I went to one of the first parties the ambassador gave in the house. It was small and informal. The guests of honor were the Washington Senators, then, as almost every year, battling for the cellar in the American League.

The ball-players, agog that anyone "should be nice to us now," were feted at a pool-side buffet luncheon by their biggest fan, with the three older Sevilla-Sacasa boys begging for autographs along with their Dad.

"Being a Washingtonian," he says, "I naturally cheer for the home team and my family does, too."
